- (4) Subject to subsection (7), the following is exempt income of the taxpayer:
- (a) if paragraph (3)(e) applies—the franked part;
 - (b) if paragraph (3)(f) applies—so much of the franked part of the distribution as flows indirectly to the taxpayer.

Taxpayers who qualify for venture capital franking tax offset

- (5) If a taxpayer (other than a life assurance company) is entitled to a tax offset in relation to the distribution under section 210-170 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, then:

where:

complying superannuation/FHSA class of taxable income is the life assurance company's complying superannuation/FHSA class of taxable income, within the meaning of subsection 995-1(1) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, for the year of income in which the distribution is made.

No exemption if return prepared on basis that amount assessable

- (7) Subsection (4) and paragraphs (5)(b) and (6)(b) do not exempt, and are taken never to have exempted, an amount if the taxpayer's return of income of the year of income is prepared on the basis that the amount is included in the taxpayer's assessable income of that year.

Where partner entitled to deduction for amount flowing indirectly

- (8) If:
 - (a) any of the franked part of the distribution flows indirectly to a taxpayer who is a partner in a partnership; and
 - (b) apart from this subsection, the amount that flows indirectly would be allowable as a deduction from the taxpayer's assessable income of a year of income; and
 - (c) the taxpayer is of a kind mentioned in any of paragraphs (3)(a) to (d);the amount that flows indirectly is not allowable as a deduction from that assessable income.
- (9) Subsection (8) does not prevent, and is taken never to have prevented, an amount from being allowable as a deduction if the taxpayer's return of income of the year of income is prepared on the basis that the amount is so allowable.

Where trustee assessed on amount flowing indirectly

- (10) If:
 - (a) any of the franked part of the distribution flows indirectly to the trustee of a trust estate; and

Section 124ZN

- (b) apart from this subsection, the trustee would be liable under section 98, 99 or 99A to be assessed and pay tax on the amount that flows indirectly;
the trustee is not liable under that section to be assessed and to pay tax on the amount that flows indirectly.
- (11) Subsection (10) does not prevent, and is taken never to have prevented, the trustee from being liable under that section to be assessed and to pay tax on an amount if the trustee elects to be so liable.
- (12) An election must be made in the trustee's return of income of the trust estate for the year of income concerned.

Interpretation

- (13) In this section:

flows indirectly has the meaning given by subsection 995-1(1) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

 - (a) to have sold the shares immediately before the company ceased to be a PDF; and
 - (b) to have rebought the shares immediately after the company so ceased;for a consideration equal to the market value of the shares immediately after the company so ceased.
- (3) Parts 3-1 and 3-3 (about CGT) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 apply as if the taxpayer:
 - (a) had disposed of the CGT assets constituted by the shares, and had done so immediately before the company ceased to be a PDF; and

Division 11B—Equity investments in small-medium enterprises

128TG Summary of this Division

- (1) The following is a summary of this Division.
- (2) If, in connection with a money-lending business, a taxpayer is issued shares in a small-medium enterprise, any profit or loss the taxpayer makes when it disposes of certain shares that would be dealt with under section 6-5 or 8-1 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 is, to the extent that it relates to the period after the issue, instead dealt with under Parts 3-1 and 3-3 (about CGT) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.
- (3) For this to apply, the taxpayer must, after the issue, hold shares representing at least 10% of the value of the small-medium enterprise.

128TH When Division applies

This Division applies if:

- (a) a taxpayer acquires a threshold interest in an SME (see section 128TJ); and
- (b) afterwards, the taxpayer disposes of ordinary shares, or an interest in ordinary shares, in the SME that were issued to the taxpayer (whether before, at the time of, or after acquiring the threshold interest); and
- (ba) the disposal takes place:
 - (i) in any case—in the course of the taxpayer carrying on a business of lending money or otherwise in connection with such a business of the taxpayer; or
 - (ii) if the taxpayer is a company that is a subsidiary of another company—while the one or more members of the direct ownership group of the taxpayer (see subsection 128TL(3)) are each carrying on a business of lending money; and
- (c) the shares are not trading stock of the taxpayer; and

- (d) apart from this section:
 - (i) any profit on the disposal would be included in the taxpayer's assessable income of a year of income under section 6-5 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997; and
 - (ii) any loss on the disposal would be allowable as a deduction from the taxpayer's assessable income of a year of income under section 8-1 of that Act.

128TI Consequences of Division applying

If this Division applies:

- (a) no profit on the disposal is included in the taxpayer's assessable income of any year of income under section 6-5 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997; and
- (b) no loss on the disposal is allowable as a deduction from the taxpayer's assessable income of any year of income under section 8-1 of that Act; and
- (c) the taxpayer is taken:
 - (i) to have disposed of the shares, at the time of acquiring the threshold interest in the SME, for a consideration equal to their market value at the time; and
 - (ii) to have re-acquired the shares immediately afterwards (for the purposes of this section, as if they had been issued to the taxpayer) for an amount equal to that consideration; and
- (d) any profit or loss on the disposal that is taken to have happened by subparagraph (c)(i) is included in the taxpayer's assessable income under section 6-5 of that Act, or is an allowable deduction under section 8-1 of that Act, in the year of income in which the shares are actually (disregarding that subparagraph) disposed of, and not in any other year of income.

Note: As a result of this section, the tax consequences of the actual disposal will be dealt with under section 6-5 or 8-1 of that Act in respect of any period of holding before the acquisition of the threshold interest and under Parts 3-1 and 3-3 (about CGT) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 in respect of any period after the acquisition of that interest.

Section 128TJ

- (b) the Commissioner determines that this subsection should apply in relation to the issue or transfer;

then, for the purposes of the application of the definition of issue price or transfer price, as the case may be, in subsection (1) in relation to the issue or transfer, the consideration for the issue or transfer shall be taken to be equal to:

- (c) the consideration that might reasonably be expected for the issue or transfer if the parties to the issue or transfer were independent parties dealing at arm's length with each other in relation to the issue or transfer; or
 - (d) where, for any reason (including an insufficiency of information available to the Commissioner), it is not possible or not practicable for the Commissioner to ascertain the amount referred to in paragraph (c)—such amount as the Commissioner determines.
- (3) For the purposes of this Division, there shall be taken to be an eligible return in relation to a security if at the time when the security is issued it is reasonably likely, by reason that the security was issued at a discount, bears deferred interest or is capital indexed or for any other reason, having regard to the terms of the security, for the sum of all payments (other than periodic interest payments) under the security to exceed the issue price of the security, and the amount of the eligible return is the amount of the excess.
- (6) For the purposes of this Division, where an amount of interest is payable under a security, the amount shall be taken to be periodic interest if the period between the commencement of the period in respect of which the interest is expressed to be payable and the time at which the interest is payable is less than or equal to one year.

- then, for purposes of the application of this Division:

159GQ Tax treatment of holder of qualifying security

Accrual amounts to be worked out

(1) If a taxpayer holds a qualifying security for all or part of a year of income, the effect on the taxpayer's taxable income is determined by working out the accrual amount (see section 159GQB) for each accrual period (see section 159GQA) in the year of income and then summing the accrual amounts.

Positive sum assessable

(2) If the sum is a positive amount, the amount is included in the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income.

Negative sum deductible

(3) If the sum is a negative amount, a deduction of the amount is allowable in the assessment of the taxpayer of the year of income.

159GQA Accrual period

Taxpayer's maximum term to be divided into accrual periods

- (1) The taxpayer's maximum term for the qualifying security is divided into accrual periods in accordance with this section.

Whole year of income

- (2) If a year of income is wholly taken up by any of the taxpayer's maximum term, the year of income is divided into 2 accrual periods of 6 months.

Beginning of taxpayer's maximum term

- (3) If the taxpayer's maximum term begins after the beginning of the year of income:
- (a) if it begins less than 6 months after the beginning of the year of income—the period from the beginning of the taxpayer's maximum term until the middle of the year of income is an accrual period and the second 6 months of the year of income is an accrual period; and
 - (b) in any other case—the part of the year of income taken up by the taxpayer's maximum term is an accrual period.

End of taxpayer's maximum term

- (4) If the taxpayer's maximum term ends before the end of a year of income:
- (a) if it ends no later than 6 months after the beginning of the year of income—the part of the year of income taken up by the taxpayer's maximum term is an accrual period; and
 - (b) in any other case—the first 6 months of the year of income is an accrual period and the period from the middle of the year of income until the end of the taxpayer's maximum term is an accrual period.

Part III Liability to taxation

Division 16E Accruals assessability etc. in respect of certain security payments

Section 159GQB

Example

- (5) For example, if the taxpayer's year of income is a financial year and a security with a 2 year term is issued to the taxpayer on 1 April, the accrual periods will be as follows:

1st year of income		2nd year of income		3rd year of income
1 Apr.	1 July	1 Jan.	1 July	1 Jan.	1 Apr.
3 month accrual period		6 month accrual period	6 month accrual period	6 month accrual period	3 month accrual period

159GQB Accrual amount

Formula

- (1) The accrual amount for an accrual period is worked out using the formula:

[Implicit interest rate × Opening balance] – Periodic interest etc.

Implicit interest rate

- (2) In the formula in subsection (1), Implicit interest rate means the rate of interest worked out under section 159GQC (for a fixed return security) or 159GQD (for a variable return security), properly adjusted to take account of the case where the accrual period is less than 6 months.

Opening balance

- (3) In the formula in subsection (1), Opening balance means the amount worked out using the formula:

Issue/transfer price + Previous accruals – Payments

where:

Section 159GQC

Issue/transfer price means the issue price or transfer price, as the case requires, of the security; and

Previous accruals means:

- (a) if paragraph (b) does not apply—the sum, whether positive or negative, of all accrual amounts for previous accrual periods in the taxpayer's maximum term; or
- (b) if the accrual period is the first in the taxpayer's maximum term—nil; and

Payments means all payments (other than of periodic interest) made or liable to be made under the security during all previous accrual periods in the taxpayer's maximum term.

Periodic interest etc.

- (4) In the formula in subsection (1), Periodic interest etc. means the sum of:
 - (a) all periodic interest payments made or liable to be made under the security during the accrual period, properly adjusted in the case of any payment made other than at the end of the period; and
 - (b) if any payments (other than of periodic interest) made or liable to be made under the security during the accrual period are made or liable to be made other than at its end—an amount to adjust properly for the making of the payments other than at the end of the period.

159GQC Implicit interest rate for fixed return security

For the purposes of the formula component Implicit interest rate in subsection 159GQB(1), the rate of interest for a fixed return security in relation to a taxpayer is the rate of compound interest per period of 6 months at which:

- (a) the sum of the present values of all amounts payable under the security during the taxpayer's maximum term;
equals:
- (b) the issue price or the transfer price, as the case requires, of the security.

Section 159GQD

159GQD Implicit interest rate for variable return security

Implicit interest rate to be recalculated each year etc.

- (1) For the purposes of the formula component Implicit interest rate in subsection 159GQB(1), the rate of interest for a variable return security must be worked out in accordance with subsection (2) separately for each year of income during the taxpayer's maximum term. If there are 2 accrual periods of 6 months in the year of income, the rate is the same for both periods. It is possible for the rate to be negative.

Rate

- (2) The rate applicable in relation to a year of income is the rate of compound interest per period of 6 months in the calculation period (see subsection (3)) at which:
- (a) the sum of the present values of all amounts payable under the security during the calculation period;
- equals:
- (b) the opening balance, mentioned in subsection 159GQB(1), for the accrual period that begins the calculation period.

Calculation period

- (3) The calculation period means the part of the taxpayer's maximum term that occurs after the beginning of the year of income.

Where amount payable is not known

- (4) For the purposes of paragraph (2)(a), if by the end of the year of income it is not possible to determine whether an amount will be payable, or the size of the amount that will be payable, after the end of the year of income, the determination is to be made by applying subsection (5), (7) or (11), or a combination of those subsections.

Assumption of constant level

- (5) Subject to subsection (7), if an amount payable is worked out to any extent by reference to the amount or level, at a particular time, of a rate, price, index or other thing, it is to be assumed that the rate, price, index or thing will be the same at all times after the end of the year of income as it was at the end of the year of income (or, if it was not available at the end of the year of income, at the time when it was last available in the year of income).

Examples

- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5):
- (a) an example of an amount worked out wholly by reference to the amount of a rate at a particular time is an interest payment under a floating rate note. The amount payable is the product of an interest rate indicator (such as the prevailing bank bill rate) and the face or par value of the note; and
 - (b) an example of an amount worked out wholly by reference to the amount of a price at a particular time is a redemption payment under a commodity linked security where the amount of the payment is the product of the prevailing price of a commodity (such as gold) and the face or par value of the security.

Assumption of continuing rate of change

- (7) If an amount payable is worked out to any extent by reference to the amount of change in an index or other thing that occurs during a period, it is to be assumed that the index or other thing will continue to change at the same rate as it did:
- (a) if the index or other thing was available at the end of the year of income—during the year of income; or
 - (b) in any other case—during the period of 12 months in respect of which the index or other thing was last available in the year of income.

Example

- (8) An example for the purposes of subsection (7) is a payment whose amount is the product of the face or par value of a security and the percentage increase in the All Groups Consumer Price Index number (the CPI) during the year ending on 30 June 1995. If the year of income for which the implicit interest rate is being worked out is the 1993-94 year of income and the CPI increases by 2% during the year ending on 31 March 1994 (the date of the last available number during the year of income), the CPI is assumed to increase by 2% during the year ending on 30 June 1995.

Disguised continuing rate of change case

- (9) For the purposes of subsection (7), if an amount payable is worked out to any extent by reference to the quotient of:
- (a) the amount or level of an index or other thing at a particular time; and
 - (b) either:
 - (i) the amount or level of the index or other thing at a different time; or
 - (ii) another amount that, while not expressed to be the amount or level of the index or other thing at a different time, may reasonably be regarded as representing the amount or level of the index or other thing at a different time;

the amount payable is taken to be worked out to that extent by reference to the amount of change in the index or other thing that occurs during the period between the 2 times.

Example

- (10) An example for the purposes of subsection (9) is a payment under a security issued in December 1994 that is worked out by multiplying a number of dollars by the quotient of:
- (a) the All Groups Consumer Price Index number in respect of the quarter ending on 31 December 1997; and
 - (b) the number 114.

Assume that the number in paragraph (b) is the same as the All Groups Consumer Price Index number in respect of the quarter ending on 31 December 1994. In this case, it would be reasonable to regard the number as representing the amount of the index at 31 December 1994, and therefore to apply subsection (7).

General assumption

- (11) If it is not possible to make the determination mentioned in subsection (4) in respect of the whole or part of any amount by applying subsection (5) or (7), or both, (for example, because no information about a rate, price or index was available during the year of income), the determination in respect of that whole or part is to be made on the basis of what is most likely in the circumstances.

159GR Consequences of actual payments

- (1) Where a payment (not being a payment that is, or to the extent that it consists of, a periodic interest payment, a redemption payment or a partial redemption payment) is made or liable to be made in a year of income to a taxpayer under a qualifying security:
- (a) no amount shall be included in the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income in respect of the payment otherwise than under section 159GQ; and
 - (b) where the taxpayer acquired the qualifying security on transfer—no amount shall be allowable as a deduction from the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income in respect of the payment otherwise than under section 159GQ.

159GS Balancing adjustments on transfer of qualifying security

- (1) Where there is a profit amount in relation to the transfer of a qualifying security by a taxpayer in a year of income:
- (a) if there is a net assessable amount in relation to the transfer and:
 - (i) the profit amount exceeds the net assessable amount—an amount equal to the excess shall be included in the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income; or
 - (ii) the net assessable amount exceeds the profit amount—an amount equal to the excess shall be allowable as a deduction from the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income; and

Section 159GS

- (b) if there is a net deductible amount in relation to the transfer—an amount equal to the sum of that amount and the profit amount shall be included in the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income.
- (2) Where there is a loss amount in relation to the transfer of a qualifying security by a taxpayer in a year of income and:
 - (a) there is a net assessable amount in relation to the transfer—an amount equal to the net assessable amount shall be allowable as a deduction from the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income; or
 - (b) there is a net deductible amount in relation to the transfer that exceeds the loss amount—an amount equal to the excess shall be included in the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income.
- (3) For the purposes of the application of this section in relation to the transfer (in this subsection referred to as the relevant transfer) of a qualifying security by a taxpayer:
 - (a) where the transfer price, as increased by the amount of any payments (other than periodic interest payments) made to the taxpayer under the security in respect of the period when the security was held by the taxpayer exceeds:
 - (i) the issue price of the security; or
 - (ii) where the security was acquired by the taxpayer on transfer—the transfer price in relation to that transfer; there shall be taken to be a profit amount in relation to the relevant transfer of an amount equal to the excess;
 - (b) where the issue price of the security or, where the security was acquired by the taxpayer on transfer, the transfer price in relation to that transfer exceeds the sum of the transfer price in relation to the relevant transfer and any payments (other than periodic interest payments) made to the taxpayer under the security in respect of the period when the security was held by the taxpayer, there shall be taken to be a loss amount in relation to the relevant transfer of an amount equal to the excess;
 - (c) where the sum of all amounts (if any) included under section 159GQ in the assessable income of the taxpayer in respect of the security in respect of the period when the security was held by the taxpayer exceeds the sum of all amounts (if any) allowable under those sections as deductions from the assessable income of the taxpayer in respect of the security in respect of that period, there shall be taken to be a net assessable amount in relation to the relevant transfer of an amount equal to the excess; and

- (d) where the sum of all amounts (if any) allowable under section 159GQ as deductions from the assessable income of the taxpayer in respect of the security in respect of the period when the taxpayer held the security exceeds the sum of all amounts (if any) included under those sections in the assessable income of the taxpayer in respect of the security in respect of that period, there shall be taken to be a net deductible amount in relation to the relevant transfer of an amount equal to the excess.

159GT Tax treatment of issuer of a qualifying security

- (1) Subsections (1A) and (1B) apply if a taxpayer is an issuer of a qualifying security to which this section applies during a period (the issuer period) comprising the whole or part of a year of income.
- (1A) If, on the assumptions in subsection (1C), an amount would be included in the taxpayer's assessable income of the year of income in respect of the issuer period, then, subject to this section, the taxpayer is entitled to a deduction in his or her assessment for the year of income equal to that amount.
- (1B) If, on the assumptions in subsection (1C), a deduction would be allowable in the taxpayer's assessment for the year of income, then an amount equal to the deduction is included in the taxpayer's assessable income of the year of income.
- (1C) For the purposes of subsections (1A) and (1B), the assumptions are that:
- (a) the security was issued to the taxpayer (rather than the taxpayer being the issuer of the security); and

Part III Liability to taxation

Division 16E Accruals assessability etc. in respect of certain security payments

Section 159GT

- (b) the taxpayer held the security during the whole of the issuer period; and
 - (c) the taxpayer did not transfer the security at the end of the issuer period; and
 - (d) sections 159GW, 159GX and 159GY were not enacted.
- (2) A deduction is not allowable to a taxpayer under subsection (1A) in relation to a qualifying security to which this section applies unless the taxpayer would, but for this Division, be entitled to a deduction under section 8-1 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 in respect of payments (not being redemption payments, partial redemption payments or periodic interest payments) made or liable to be made under the security in respect of the relevant period referred to in that subsection.
- (3) Where a payment (not being a payment that is, or to the extent that it consists of, a periodic interest payment, a redemption payment or a partial redemption payment) is made or liable to be made in a year of income by a taxpayer under a qualifying security to which this section applies, no amount shall be allowable as a deduction from the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income in respect of the payment otherwise than under this section.
- (5) Subject to subsection (6), this section applies to:
- (a) any qualifying security issued on or before 22 May 1986; and
 - (b) any qualifying security issued in Australia after 22 May 1986 other than a negotiable instrument issued payable to bearer.
- (6) This section does not apply to a qualifying security issued by a taxpayer after 5 o'clock in the evening, by standard time in the Australian Capital Territory, on 23 April 1987:
- (a) to, on behalf of or otherwise for the benefit of, a non-resident or a prescribed dual resident associate of the taxpayer; or
 - (b) subject to an agreement between the taxpayer and an associate of the taxpayer under which the security is or was to be transferred to a non-resident or a prescribed dual resident associate of the taxpayer.

159GU Effect of Division on certain transfer profits and losses

- (1) Where, apart from this Division, a profit that is made by a resident taxpayer in relation to a transfer of a qualifying security that does not form part of the trading stock of the taxpayer would be included in the assessable income of the taxpayer of a year of income, the profit shall not be so included in the assessable income of the taxpayer.
- (2) Where, apart from this Division, a loss that is incurred by a resident taxpayer in relation to a transfer of a qualifying security that does not form part of the trading stock of the taxpayer would be allowable as a deduction from the assessable income of the taxpayer of a year of income and there is a net deductible amount, within the meaning of section 159GS, in relation to the transfer, so much only of the amount of the loss as exceeds the net deductible amount shall be so allowable as a deduction.

159GV Consequence of variation of terms of security

- (1) Where, after 22 May 1986, a material variation is made in the terms of a security, for the purposes of the application of this Division in relation to the security in respect of the period after the variation and before any subsequent material variation:
 - (a) the security shall be taken to have been issued on the terms on which it was originally issued as varied by the material variation and any prior variation;
 - (b) where consideration for the variation is paid or payable by the holder of the security—the issue price of the security shall be taken to be an amount equal to the amount that was the issue price of the security immediately before this application of this subsection increased by the amount of that consideration;
 - (c) where consideration for the variation is paid or payable by the issuer of the security—the issue price of the security shall be taken to be an amount equal to the amount that was the issue price of the security immediately before this application of this subsection reduced by the amount of that consideration; and

Section 159GV

(d) paragraph (a) of the definition of qualifying security in subsection 159GP(1) shall be disregarded.

(2) Where:

(a) subsection (1) applies in relation to a security held by a taxpayer in relation to a material variation in the terms of the security; and

(b) if:

(i) that subsection had effect not only in relation to the period after the variation but also in relation to the whole of the term of the security before the variation; and

(ii) any previous material variations were taken into account but any subsequent material variations were disregarded;

the sum (in this subsection referred to as the total notional taxable income) of the taxable incomes of the taxpayer in respect of the year of income in which the variation is made and all previous years of income would have differed from the sum (in this subsection referred to as the total actual taxable income) of the actual taxable incomes of the taxpayer of those years of income;

the following provisions have effect:

(c) where the total notional taxable income exceeds the total actual taxable income—an amount equal to the excess shall be included in the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income in which the variation is made;

(d) where the total actual taxable income exceeds the total notional taxable income—an amount equal to the excess shall be allowable as a deduction from the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income in which the variation is made.

(3) In this section, a reference to a material variation of the terms of a security is a reference to a variation of the terms of the security:

(a) that has the effect that a security that was not a qualifying security before the variation would, if the security had been originally issued with the terms as varied and if paragraph (a) of the definition of qualifying security in

- subsection 159GP(1) were disregarded, have been a qualifying security when the security was issued;
- (b) that has the effect that a security that is a qualifying security would, if originally issued with the terms as varied, not have been a qualifying security at the time of issue; or
 - (c) that has the effect that the amount, or time of making, of a payment under the security, or that the holder or issuer of the security, is varied.
- (4) Where any right or option under a security to extend the term of, or otherwise vary the effect of, the security is exercised, then, for the purposes of this section, the exercise of that right or option shall be taken to be a variation of the terms of the security to provide for the extension or other effect.

159GW Effect of Division in relation to non-residents

- (1) Subject to subsection (2), where during the whole or a part of a year of income (which whole or part is in this subsection referred to as the period of non-residence) a taxpayer is not a resident:
- (a) no amount shall be included in, or allowable as a deduction from, the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income under section 159GQ in relation to the period of non-residence; and
 - (c) no amount shall be included in, or allowable as a deduction from, the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income under section 159GS in relation to any transfer of the security that occurred during the period of non-residence.
- (2) Where:
- (a) a payment is made or liable to be made under a qualifying security to a resident taxpayer; and
 - (b) the taxpayer was not a resident for the whole or a part (which whole or part is in this subsection referred to as the period of non-residence) of the period during which the taxpayer held the security;
- the following provisions have effect:
- (c) there shall be included in the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income in which the payment is made

Part III Liability to taxation

or liable to be made an amount equal to the amount that, but for subsection (1), would have been included in the assessable income of the taxpayer of any year or years of income under section 159GQ in respect of the payment in respect of the period of non-residence;

- (d) there shall be allowable as a deduction from the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income in which the payment is made or liable to be made an amount equal to the amount that, but for subsection (1), would have been allowable as a deduction from the assessable income of the taxpayer of any year or years of income under section 159GQ in respect of the payment in respect of the period of non-residence.

159GX Effect of Division where certain payments not assessable

Where, but for this section, an amount would be included in, or allowable as a deduction from, the assessable income of a taxpayer of a year of income under section 159GQ in respect of the whole or a part of a payment under a qualifying security, no amount shall be so included or allowable unless the payment or a part of the payment, when actually made or liable to be made, would, disregarding section 128D, be included in the assessable income of the taxpayer of a year of income.

159GY Effect of Division where qualifying security is trading stock

No amount shall be included in, or allowable as a deduction from, the assessable income of a taxpayer:

- (a) under section 159GQ in relation to a qualifying security in respect of any year or part of a year of income during which the qualifying security forms part of the trading stock of the taxpayer; or
- (c) under section 159GS in relation to the transfer of a qualifying security by the taxpayer where, immediately before the transfer, the qualifying security was or formed part of the trading stock of the taxpayer.

159GZ Stripped securities

(1) Where:

- (a) at any time a taxpayer acquires or acquired a security (in this subsection referred to as the underlying security) in relation to which there are or were 2 or more payment rights; and
- (b) the taxpayer transfers or transferred one or some but not all of those rights to a particular person or particular persons jointly;

for the purposes of the application of this Division (including any subsequent application of this subsection) in relation to any period after the transfer of the right or rights:

- (c) instead of the underlying security, there shall be taken to have been originally issued:
 - (i) a separate security under which the payment right or payment rights transferred to the person or persons referred to in paragraph (b) were created;
 - (ii) where at the time at which that right or those rights were transferred, another payment right or other payment rights in relation to the underlying security was or were transferred to another person or to other persons jointly—a separate security under which that other right or those other rights were created; and
 - (iii) where immediately after the transfer the taxpayer retains or retained any payment right or rights—a separate security under which that right or those rights were created;
- (d) where the underlying security was issued to the taxpayer—the issue price of each separate security referred to in paragraph (c) shall be taken to be so much of the issue price of the underlying security as bears to that amount the proportion that the market value of the separate security at the time of issue of the underlying security bears to the market value of the underlying security at that time; and
- (e) where the underlying security was acquired by the taxpayer on transfer—the transfer price, in relation to that transfer, of each separate security referred to in paragraph (c) shall be taken to be so much of the transfer price of the underlying security as bears to that amount the proportion that the market value of the separate security at the time of transfer bears to the market value of the underlying security at that time.

- (2) Where, by reason of the application of subsection (1) in relation to the transfer after 16 December 1984 of a payment right or payment rights in relation to a security to a particular person or particular persons jointly, the payment right or rights is or are taken to comprise a separate security, then, for the purposes of the application of this Division in relation to the separate security in relation to any period after the transfer, paragraph (a) of the definition of qualifying security in subsection 159GP(1) shall be disregarded.
- (3) In subsections (1) and (2), payment right, in relation to a security, means a right to receive a particular payment that is liable to be made under the security.
- (4) Where:
- (a) at any time a taxpayer acquires or acquired a security (in this subsection referred to as the underlying security) on issue or transfer;
 - (b) after 16 December 1984, the taxpayer issues a qualifying security (in this subsection referred to as the stripped security); and
 - (c) but for this subsection, a deduction of an amount equal to the whole or a part of the issue price or, where the underlying security was acquired on transfer, the transfer price of the underlying security would be allowable from the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income in which the taxpayer issues the stripped security in respect of the issue of the stripped security;

the amount of the deduction allowable shall be an amount that bears to the issue price or transfer price, as the case may be, of the underlying security the same proportion as the market value of the stripped security at the time of issue or purchase, as the case may be, bears to the market value of the underlying security at that time.

159GZZZE Share cancellations to which this Division applies

Where a holding company cancels shares in itself that are held by a subsidiary of that company, this Division applies to the cancellation of the shares.

159GZZZF Effect on subsidiary of share cancellations to which this Division applies

- (1) Where:
 - (a) this Division applies to a cancellation of shares; and
 - (b) apart from this section, either:

Section 159GZZZG

- (i) the subsidiary concerned would not receive or be entitled to receive any capital proceeds in respect of the cancellation; or
- (ii) the capital proceeds that the subsidiary concerned would receive or be entitled to receive in respect of the cancellation would be less than the adjusted market value of the shares;

the following provisions have effect for the purposes of this Act:

- (c) where subparagraph (b)(i) applies—the subsidiary shall be taken to have received or to be entitled to receive, as capital proceeds in respect of the cancellation, an amount equal to the adjusted market value of the shares;
 - (d) where subparagraph (b)(ii) applies—the amount of the capital proceeds that the subsidiary receives or is entitled to receive in respect of the cancellation shall be taken to be increased by an amount so that it equals the adjusted market value of the shares.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the adjusted market value of the shares is the amount that would have been their market value at the time of the cancellation if the cancellation did not occur and was never proposed to occur.

159GZZZG Pre-cancellation disposals of eligible interests

- (1) Where:
- (a) this Division applies to a cancellation of shares;
 - (b) during the pre-cancellation period, there is a disposal of an eligible interest held by an eligible entity in relation to the holding company and the subsidiary concerned; and
 - (c) apart from this section, either:
 - (i) the eligible entity would not have received or been entitled to receive any capital proceeds in respect of the disposal; or
 - (ii) the capital proceeds that the eligible entity would have received or been entitled to receive in respect of the disposal would have been less than the adjusted market value of the eligible interest;

Section 159GZZZH

the following provisions have effect for the purposes of this Act:

- (d) where subparagraph (c)(i) applies—the eligible entity shall be taken to have received or to have been entitled to receive, as capital proceeds in respect of the disposal, an amount equal to the adjusted market value of the eligible interest;
 - (e) where subparagraph (c)(ii) applies—the amount of the capital proceeds that the eligible entity received or was entitled to receive in respect of the disposal shall be taken to be increased by an amount so that it equals the adjusted market value of the eligible interest.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the adjusted market value of the eligible interest is the amount that would have been its market value at the time of the disposal if the cancellation of the shares to which this Division applies did not occur and was never proposed to occur.

159GZZZH Post-cancellation disposals of eligible interests etc.

- (1) Where:
- (a) as a result of the application of section 159GZZZF in relation to a cancellation of shares, the subsidiary concerned is taken to have received or to be entitled to receive an amount of capital proceeds or an increase in an amount of capital proceeds (which amount or increase is in this section called the cancellation adjustment amount) in relation to the cancellation of the shares; and
 - (b) an eligible entity in relation to the holding company and the subsidiary concerned holds an eligible interest at the time of the share cancellation;
- then this section applies in relation to the eligible interest.

Section 159GZZZI

- (ii) the amount of any profit included in, or loss allowable as a deduction from, the assessable income of the eligible entity in respect of the acquisition and any subsequent disposal of the eligible interest;
the capital proceeds in respect of the acquisition of the eligible interest shall be taken to have been reduced by the eligible interest's eligible proportion of the cancellation adjustment amount; and
 - (b) if the eligible interest is trading stock—the capital proceeds in respect of any subsequent disposal of the eligible interest shall be taken to be increased by the eligible interest's eligible proportion of the cancellation adjustment amount.
- (3) For the purposes of Parts 3-1 and 3-3 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, if a CGT event happens in relation to the eligible interest, the cost base and reduced cost base of the eligible interest is reduced by the eligible interest's eligible proportion of the cancellation adjustment amount.
- (5) This section applies in relation to the acquisition of the eligible interest held by the eligible entity, and to a CGT event happening in relation to the eligible interest, even if the entity was not an eligible entity, and the interest was not an eligible interest, at the time of the acquisition or CGT event.

159GZZZI Additional application of sections 159GZZZG and 159GZZZH to associates

- (1) Subject to this section, where a natural person is an associate of a holding company (otherwise than solely because of being the trustee of a trust estate), sections 159GZZZG and 159GZZZH apply (in addition to any application apart from this application of this section) as if references in those sections to:
- (a) an eligible entity in relation to the holding company and the subsidiary concerned;
 - (b) an eligible interest of such an entity; or
 - (c) the eligible proportion in relation to such an interest;
- were references to what would, if the natural person were a holding company in relation to the subsidiary, be respectively:

- (1) Subject to this section, if a buy-back of a share is an off-market purchase, then:
 - (a) in determining, for the purposes of this Act:

Reduction amount

- (4) The following steps are to be taken in working out whether there is a reduction amount in respect of the buy-back:
- (a) first, work out whether the whole or part of the purchase price in respect of the buy-back is taken to be a dividend by section 159GZZZP;
 - (b) second, for any amount satisfying paragraph (a), work out whether the whole or part of it is either:
 - (i) included in the seller's assessable income of any year of income (disregarding section 128D of this Act and section 802-15 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997); or
 - (ii) an eligible non-capital amount (see subsection (5)).

The amount worked out is the reduction amount in respect of the buy-back.

Offsettable amount excluded from reduction where loss

- (8) If:
- (aa) the seller is a corporate tax entity; and
 - (a) the amount of consideration that the seller is taken by subsection (1) or (2) to have received or to be entitled to receive in respect of the sale of the share is, apart from this subsection, reduced by a reduction amount under subsection (3); and

 - (i) for the purposes of Parts 3-1 and 3-3 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (about CGT), the seller incurs a capital loss or an increased capital loss (which loss or increase is the loss amount) in respect of the buy-back; or
 - (ii) a loss, or an increased loss, (which loss or increase is also the loss amount) in respect of the buy-back is allowable as a deduction to the seller under a provision of a Part of this Act other than Part 3-1 or 3-3 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997; or
 - (iii) the amount of a deduction allowable from the seller's assessable income of any year of income in respect of the issue or acquisition of the share exceeds, or exceeds by a greater amount, (the excess or increased excess is also the loss amount) the amount included in the seller's assessable income of any year of income in respect of the buy-back of the share;

Section 159GZZZR

then the reduction in the amount of the consideration under subsection (3) is instead a reduction equal to:

- (d) the reduction amount;
- less:
- (e) so much of the offsetable amount as does not exceed the loss amount.

Meaning of offsetable amount

- (9) For the purposes of subsection (8), if the seller is entitled to a tax offset under Division 207 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 in the seller's assessment for a year of income in respect of the dividend, the dividend consists of an offsetable amount worked out using the formula:

- (1B) Where, but for subsection (1A), a taxpayer would be entitled in his or her assessment in respect of income of a year of income to a rebate under this section in respect of a dependant included in class 3 or 4 in the table in subsection (2), the entitlement of the taxpayer to a rebate under this section in that assessment in respect of any dependant included in class 2 of that table shall be calculated as if the reference in that table to $1,711 were a reference to $2,051.
- (1C) A taxpayer is not entitled, in his or her assessment in respect of a year of income, to a rebate under this section in respect of a dependant included in class 1 in the table in subsection (2) if the dependant was born on or after 1 July 1952.

- (1G) Subsection (1F) does not affect a taxpayer's entitlement to a rebate in respect of a dependant who is also a dependant included in class 1 in the table in subsection (2).
- (2) Subject to this section, the amount of the rebate allowable in the assessment of the taxpayer in respect of a dependant under this section is the relevant amount specified in column 3 of the following table:

Column 1 Class	Column 2 Dependant	Column 3 Amounts of Rebate
1	Spouse of the taxpayer	$2,100
2	Child-housekeeper	$1,711

- (3) Where:
- (a) the taxpayer contributes to the maintenance of a dependant during part only of the year of income; or
 - (aa) a dependant is a resident during part only of the year of income; or
 - (b) during the whole or part of the year of income, 2 or more persons contribute to the maintenance of a person who is a

Section 159J

dependant in relation to 1 or more of the persons so contributing; or

- (c) a dependant, being the spouse of the taxpayer, is the spouse of the taxpayer during part only of the year of income; or
- (d) a dependant, being a child-housekeeper, is wholly engaged in keeping house for the taxpayer during part only of the year of income; or
- (e) a dependant, being a child included in class 3 in the table in subsection (2), a student or an invalid relative, is such a dependant during part only of the year of income; or
- (f) a dependant, being a spouse of the taxpayer, is an invalid spouse or a carer spouse during part only of the income year;

the rebate allowable to the taxpayer in respect of that dependant shall be such part of the relevant amount specified in column 3 of that table as, in the opinion of the Commissioner, is reasonable in the circumstances.

- (3A) In the application of the definition of resident in subsection 6(1) for the purposes of this section, a dependant included in class 1, 2, 3 or 4, and a child, invalid spouse or carer spouse of the taxpayer being a dependant included in class 5, in the table in subsection (2) shall be deemed to have a domicile in Australia at all times when the taxpayer has a domicile in Australia.
- (4) The amount of the rebate otherwise allowable under this section in respect of a dependant shall be reduced by $1 for every $4 by which the dependant's adjusted taxable income for rebates for the year of income exceeds $282.
- (5) Where, during the whole or a part of the year of income, the taxpayer and a person of a kind specified in column 2 of the table in subsection (2) resided together and that person has an adjusted taxable income for rebates for that year, then, for the purposes of this section, the taxpayer shall be regarded, unless the contrary is established to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, as having contributed to the maintenance of that person during the whole or that part of the year of income, as the case may be.
- (5A) Subject to subsection (5B), where, but for this subsection, a taxpayer would, by reason that he or she contributed to the maintenance of 2 or more dependants included in class 1 in the table in subsection (2) during the whole or a part of the year of income, be entitled in his or her assessment in respect of income of the year of income to more than one rebate under this section, the taxpayer shall be regarded as having contributed to the maintenance of only one of those dependants during the whole or that part of the year of income, as the case may be, being the dependant in respect of whom the lesser, or least, of the rebates would, but for this subsection, be allowable to the taxpayer under this section in respect of those dependants.

- (5B) Where subsection (5A) applies but the Commissioner is of the opinion that, because of special circumstances, it would be reasonable to regard the taxpayer as having contributed during the whole or a part of the year of income to the maintenance of a dependant included in class 1 in the table in subsection (2), other than the dependant in respect of whom a rebate is allowable under this section by virtue of the operation of subsection (5A), the taxpayer shall be regarded as having contributed to the maintenance of that other dependant only and the rebate allowable to the taxpayer under this section in respect of that other dependant shall be such amount, not exceeding the relevant amount specified in column 3 of the table in subsection (2), as is, in the opinion of the Commissioner, reasonable in the circumstances.

- (5C) Where:

- (a) during the whole or a part of the year of income, a taxpayer contributed to the maintenance of 2 or more dependants included in class 1 in the table in subsection (2); and
- (b) by virtue of the operation of subsection (4), a rebate is not allowable to the taxpayer under this section in respect of one of those dependants;

the taxpayer shall be regarded as not having contributed to the maintenance of any of those dependants during the whole or that part of the year of income, unless the Commissioner is of the opinion that, because of special circumstances, it would be unreasonable to do so, in which case the rebate (if any) allowable under this section in the assessment of the taxpayer in respect of income of the year of income in respect of a dependant included in class 1 in that table shall be such amount, not exceeding the relevant amount specified in column 3 of that table, as is, in the opinion of the Commissioner, reasonable in the circumstances.

- (5CA) For the purposes of subsections (5A), (5B) and (5C), treat a dependant that is an invalid spouse or a carer spouse for the purpose of class 5 in the table in subsection (2) as a dependant included in class 1 in the table.
- (5D) Where, by reason that, during the whole or a part of the year of income, a taxpayer contributes to the maintenance of a dependant included in class 1 in the table in subsection (2) or a dependant that is an invalid spouse or a carer spouse for the purpose of class 5 in the table in subsection (2), the taxpayer is entitled, or would, but for subsection (1C) or (4), be entitled, in his or her assessment in respect of income of the year of income, to a rebate under this section, a child of the taxpayer shall be deemed not to have been engaged in keeping house for the taxpayer during the whole or that part of the year of income, as the case may be.

Note: The shared care period may be the whole year.

- (4) The formula is:

$$\left(1 - \frac{\text{Shared care rate}}{\text{Non-shared care rate}} \right) \times \text{Applicable rebate amount}$$

where:

applicable rebate amount is the amount of rebate that would have been allowable under section 159J in respect of the shared care period but for subsection (3) of this section.

non-shared care rate is the rate that would be the standard rate in respect of the taxpayer or the taxpayer's spouse under clause 30 of Schedule 1 to the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999 if:

- (a) clause 31 of that Schedule did not apply; and
- (b) the FTB child in respect of whom the standard rate was determined under clause 31 was the only FTB child of the taxpayer or the taxpayer's spouse, as the case requires.

 - (b) otherwise—20% of the amount by which the total of the rebatable medical expense amounts exceeds the medical expense rebate lower phase-in limit.

Note: For the phase-in limits, see section 159Q.

- (3B) Where the trustee of the estate of a deceased person pays an amount as medical expenses in respect of a liability incurred by the deceased person in the deceased person's lifetime, being an amount that would have been a rebatable medical expense amount if it had been paid by the deceased person during the deceased person's lifetime, there shall be allowed, in the assessment of the trustee upon the assessable income derived by the deceased person during the year of income in which the deceased person died, a rebate of tax equal to the rebate that would have been allowable to the deceased person under this section in respect of that amount if it

- (a) the taxpayer has anticipated amendments (see subsection (3)); and
 - (b) in making the assessment, the particular was ascertained on the basis of the taxpayer's anticipated amendments having been made; and
 - (c) that way of amending the assessment would instead ascertain the particular on the basis of the anticipated amendments not having been made.

Section 170B

Anticipation not to give rise to administrative overpayment

- (2) If ascertaining that particular on the basis of the taxpayer's anticipated amendments not having been made:
- (a) would not result in an amendment of the assessment; but
 - (b) would, apart from this subsection, result in an amount the Commissioner paid to the taxpayer on the basis of the assessment being an administrative overpayment (within the meaning of section 8AAZN of the Taxation Administration Act 1953);
- the amount of the administrative overpayment is taken, for the purposes of the taxation law, to be an amount to which the taxpayer is entitled.

Meaning of anticipated amendments

- (3) One or more hypothetical amendments of the taxation law, taken together, are anticipated amendments a taxpayer has if:
- (a) the amendments, if made, would reasonably reflect an announcement mentioned in the table in subsection (8); and
 - (b) a statement made by or on behalf of the taxpayer:
 - (i) is consistent with the amendments having been made; and
 - (ii) is made in good faith; and
 - (iii) meets the timing requirement in column 2 of an applicable item of the following table.

Timing requirements for statements
Item	Column 1 In this case:	Column 2 The timing requirement is:
1	The statement is made in a return lodged on or before 14 December 2013	The return: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) is lodged in the period that the announcement is on foot (see subsection (8)); and (b) was not required to be lodged before the start of that period.
2	The statement is made otherwise than in a return	The statement is made in the period that the announcement is on foot.

Section 170B

Item	Column 1 In this case:	Column 2 The timing requirement is:
3	All of the following apply: (a) the statement is made in a return of the taxpayer lodged after 14 December 2013; (b) the return was not required to be lodged on or before that date; (c) just before the statement is made, no return has been given, and no assessment has been made, in relation to the taxpayer in respect of the year of income to which the statement relates	The statement relates to the application of the taxation law (as hypothetically amended by the amendments) to events or circumstances: (a) that happened or existed on or before 14 December 2013; or (b) to the happening or existence of which the taxpayer had definitively committed on or before 14 December 2013.

- (4) In determining, for the purpose of paragraph (3)(a), whether amendments would reasonably reflect an announcement, have regard to the following:
- (a) the terms of the announcement;
 - (b) any related document published after the announcement on behalf of the Commonwealth Government, the Department of the Treasury or the Commissioner;
 - (c) if the announcement proposes to apply to a particular kind of scheme or practice—that kind of scheme or practice;

 - (i) the announcement proposes to effect a particular result in relation to the operation of the taxation law; and
 - (ii) those existing provisions effect that result, or a substantially similar result, in relation to another matter;
 - (e) any other relevant matter.

Operation of section

- (5) Subsections (1) and (2) apply despite any other provision of the taxation law, apart from subsections (6) and (7), (which are about exceptions).

Section 170B

Exceptions

- (6) Subsection (1) does not prevent an amendment if:
 - (a) the taxpayer applies for the amendment; or
 - (b) the Commissioner may make the amendment in accordance with item 6 (objection, review or appeal) of the table in subsection 170(1).

- (7) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply in relation to a particular ascertained on the basis of a taxpayer’s anticipated amendments, in any year of income, if:
 - (a) the taxpayer makes a statement (in a return of income or otherwise) for a later year of income that is not consistent with the taxpayer’s anticipated amendments; and
 - (b) if the assessment for the later year of income was to be made on the basis of the taxpayer’s anticipated amendments, instead of on the basis of the statement, the result would be less favourable to the taxpayer in that year of income.

Note: An amendment of an assessment can be made at any time to give effect to this subsection (see item 27A of the table in subsection 170(10)).

Column 1 Item	Column 2 In this case:	Column 3 the position is:
4	(a) the taxpayer had a tax loss in a nil year, some or all of which has been carried forward to the 2004-05 year of income; and (b) the taxpayer or, if the taxpayer is a member of a consolidated group at the end of the 2004-05 year of income, the head company notifies the Commissioner, in the approved form, that the taxpayer or the head company had a tax loss in the nil year	The Commissioner cannot make an original assessment for the taxpayer for the nil year after the period of 6 years beginning on the later of the following: (a) the day on which the Commissioner received the notification; (b) the day on which the taxpayer lodged the taxpayer's return of income for the nil year.

 - (b) had the Commissioner made an assessment, in accordance with the taxpayer's return of income, that the taxpayer had no taxable income or that no tax was payable by the taxpayer (assuming that such an assessment could have been made)—this Act would not have prevented the Commissioner amending the assessment at any time.

172 Refunds of amounts overpaid

- (2) In subsection (1), unless the contrary intention appears, tax includes the general interest charge under a provision of this Act, additional tax under Part VII and shortfall interest charge.
- Note 1: The general interest charge is worked out under of Part IIA of the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

- the person is liable to pay to the Commonwealth the amount of the excess. The amount is due 21 days after the Commissioner gives the person notice of the amended assessment.

Section 173

Note: For provisions about collection and recovery of the amount, see Part 4-15 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

- (3) If any of the amount (the overpayment) the person is liable to pay under subsection (2) remains unpaid after the time by which it is due to be paid, the person is liable to pay the general interest charge on the unpaid amount for each day in the period that:
- (a) starts at the beginning of the day on which the overpayment was due to be paid; and
 - (b) finishes at the end of the last day on which, at the end of the day, any of the following remains unpaid:

- (a) an amount being included in the assessable income of the taxpayer;
 - (b) the whole or a part of a deduction not being allowable to the taxpayer;
 - (c) the whole or a part of a capital loss not being incurred by the taxpayer;

happened or existed (other than those that form part of the scheme).

- (3) A decision that a tax effect might reasonably be expected to have occurred if the scheme had not been entered into or carried out must be based on a postulate that is a reasonable alternative to entering into or carrying out the scheme.
- (4) In determining for the purposes of subsection (3) whether a postulate is such a reasonable alternative:
 - (a) have particular regard to:
 - (i) the substance of the scheme; and
 - (ii) any result or consequence for the taxpayer that is or would be achieved by the scheme (other than a result in relation to the operation of this Act); but
 - (b) disregard any result in relation to the operation of this Act that would be achieved by the postulate for any person (whether or not a party to the scheme).

177D Schemes to which this Part applies

 - (a) enabling a taxpayer (a relevant taxpayer) to obtain a tax benefit in connection with the scheme; or
 - (b) enabling the relevant taxpayer and another taxpayer (or other taxpayers) each to obtain a tax benefit in connection with the scheme;whether or not that person who entered into or carried out the scheme or any part of the scheme is the relevant taxpayer or is the other taxpayer or one of the other taxpayers.

 - (h) the nature of any connection (whether of a business, family or other nature) between the relevant taxpayer and any person referred to in paragraph (f).

 - (c) if, immediately before the scheme was entered into, the company had paid a dividend out of profits of an amount equal to the amount determined by the Commissioner to be the amount of profits the distribution of which is, in his or her opinion, represented by the disposal of the property referred to in paragraph (a), an amount (in this subsection referred to as the notional amount) would have been included, or might reasonably be expected to have been included, by reason of the payment of that dividend, in the assessable income of a taxpayer of a year of income; and
 - (d) the scheme has been or is entered into after 27 May 1981, whether in Australia or outside Australia;the following provisions have effect:

Section 177EA

Effect of determination of franking debit or exempting debit

- (a) on the day on which notice in writing of the determination is served on the entity, a franking debit or exempting debit of the corporate tax entity arises in respect of the distribution; and

Meaning of scheme for a disposition

- (a) the taxpayer is entitled to a tax offset under Division 207 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 as a result of the distribution; or
 - (b) where the taxpayer is a corporate tax entity—a franking credit would arise in the franking account of the taxpayer as a result of the distribution.

Note: Where the distribution is made directly to the taxpayer, see subsection 204-30(6) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 for a definition of imputation benefit.

Meaning of relevant circumstances of scheme

- (17) The relevant circumstances of a scheme include the following:
- (a) the extent and duration of the risks of loss, and the opportunities for profit or gain, from holding membership interests, or having interests in membership interests, in the corporate tax entity that are respectively borne by or accrue to the parties to the scheme, and whether there has been any change in those risks and opportunities for the relevant taxpayer or any other party to the scheme (for example, a change resulting from the making of any contract, the granting of any option or the entering into of any arrangement with respect to any membership interests, or interests in membership interests, in the corporate tax entity);
 - (b) whether the relevant taxpayer would, in the year of income in which the distribution is made, or if the distribution flows indirectly to the relevant taxpayer, in the year in which the distribution flows indirectly to the relevant taxpayer, derive a greater benefit from franking credits than other entities who hold membership interests, or have interests in membership interests, in the corporate tax entity;
 - (c) whether, apart from the scheme, the corporate tax entity would have retained the franking credits or exempting credits or would have used the franking credits or exempting credits

Section 177EA

- to pay a franked distribution to another entity referred to in paragraph (b);
- (d) whether, apart from the scheme, a franked distribution would have flowed indirectly to another entity referred to in paragraph (b);
 - (e) if the scheme involves the issue of a non-share equity interest to which section 215-10 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 applies—whether the corporate tax entity has issued, or is likely to issue, equity interests in the corporate tax entity:
 - (i) that are similar, from a commercial point of view, to the non-share equity interest; and
 - (ii) distributions in respect of which are frankable;
 - (f) whether any consideration paid or given by or on behalf of, or received by or on behalf of, the relevant taxpayer in connection with the scheme (for example, the amount of any interest on a loan) was calculated by reference to the imputation benefits to be received by the relevant taxpayer;
 - (g) whether a deduction is allowable or a capital loss is incurred in connection with a distribution that is made or that flows indirectly under the scheme;
 - (ga) whether a distribution that is made or that flows indirectly under the scheme to the relevant taxpayer is sourced, directly or indirectly, from unrealised or untaxed profits;
 - (h) whether a distribution that is made or that flows indirectly under the scheme to the relevant taxpayer is equivalent to the receipt by the relevant taxpayer of interest or of an amount in the nature of, or similar to, interest;
 - (i) the period for which the relevant taxpayer held membership interests, or had an interest in membership interests, in the corporate tax entity;
 - (j) any of the matters referred to in subsection 177D(2).

Meaning of greater benefit from franking credits

- (18) The following subsection lists some of the cases in which a taxpayer to whom a distribution flows indirectly receives a greater benefit from franking credits than an entity referred to in paragraph (17)(b). It is not an exhaustive list.

Section 177EB

- (19) A taxpayer to whom a distribution flows indirectly receives a greater benefit from franking credits than an entity referred to in paragraph (17)(b) if any of the following circumstances exist in relation to that entity in the year of income in which the distribution giving rise to the benefit is made, and not in relation to the taxpayer if:
- (a) the entity is not an Australian resident; or
 - (b) the entity would not be entitled to any tax offset under Division 207 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 because of the distribution; or
 - (c) the amount of income tax that would be payable by the entity because of the distribution is less than the tax offset to which the entity would be entitled; or
 - (d) the entity is a corporate tax entity at the time the distribution is made, but no franking credit arises for the entity as a result of the distribution; or
 - (e) the entity is a corporate tax entity at the time the distribution is made, but cannot use franking credits received on the distribution to frank distributions to its own members because:
 - (i) it is not a franking entity; or
 - (ii) it is unable to make frankable distributions.

Note: Where the distribution is made directly to the taxpayer, see subsections 204-30(7), (8), (9) and (10) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 for a list of circumstances in which the taxpayer will be treated as deriving a greater benefit from franking credits than another entity.

change resulting from the making of any contract, the granting of any option or the entering into of any arrangement with respect to any membership interests in the joining entity);

- (b) whether the head company, or a person holding membership interests in the head company, would, in the year of income in which the joining entity became a subsidiary member of the group or any later year of income, derive a greater benefit from franking credits than other persons who held membership interests in the joining entity immediately before it became a subsidiary member of the group;
- (c) the extent (if any) to which the joining entity was able to pay a franked dividend or distribution immediately before it became a subsidiary member of the group;
- (d) whether any consideration paid or given by or on behalf of, or received by or on behalf of, the head company in connection with the scheme (for example, the amount of any interest on a loan) was calculated by reference to the franking credit benefits to be received by the head company;
