An Act relating to the small superannuation accounts scheme

Part 1—Introduction

1 Short title

This Act may be cited as the Small Superannuation Accounts Act 1995.

2 Commencement

This Act commences on 1 July 1995.

3 Simplified explanation

The following is a simplified explanation of this Act:

- The Australian Taxation Office administers a Special Account. Notional accounts are kept within the Special Account. Employers may deposit money for their employees instead of making superannuation contributions. These deposits are credited to the notional accounts.
- The account offers employees with small balances an opportunity to avoid the erosion of those balances by fees.
- Employees may request that account balances be transferred to a nominated superannuation fund or RSA.
- Except in special cases, employees will not have direct access to their account balances.
- Interest will be calculated on the daily balance of the account and credited to the account on a quarterly basis.

Section 4

- Interest is exempt from income tax.
- If an account balance exceeds $1,200, interest will only be credited on the first $1,200 of the balance. This is an incentive for employees to request that balances of more than $1,200 be transferred to a superannuation fund.
- Under the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, employers may get income tax deductions for deposits. There is an annual deduction limit of $1,200 per employee.
- Under the Superannuation Guarantee (Administration) Act 1992, deposits made by an employer will be treated as superannuation contributions.
- The accounts may also be credited with Government co-contributions payable under the Superannuation (Government Co-contribution for Low Income Earners) Act 2003. The rules for these deposits differ in some respects from those that apply to other deposits.

 - (c) cash; or
 - (d) any combination of the above.

If the person does so, this Act has effect as if the person had given the Commissioner of Taxation a separate cheque for each of the payments.

33 Deposit not held on trust etc.

- (1) A deposit, or purported deposit, made in respect of an individual:
- (a) is not held on trust; and
 - (b) is not special public money for the purposes of section 16 of the Financial Management and Accountability Act 1997.
- (2) A deposit, or purported deposit, made in respect of an individual is not repayable or refundable except as provided by this Act.

Part 5—Crediting of deposits

34 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Part:

Deposits are to be credited to accounts by following these steps:

- credit the deposit to the Special Account;
- credit the deposit to the individual's account.

35 Crediting of deposits

Step 1—Credit to Special Account

- (1) An amount equal to a deposit or purported deposit made in respect of an individual is to be credited to the Special Account.

Step 2—Credit to individual's account

- (2) As soon as practicable after the amount is credited to the Special Account, the individual's account is to be credited with an amount equal to the deposit or purported deposit.

Part 6—Crediting of interest

Division 1—Simplified outline

36 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Part:

- Interest is funded by crediting amounts to the Special Account.
- Interest accrues to an account on the daily balance of the account. Interest only accrues on the first $1,200 of the balance of the account.
- Interest is credited each quarter on the allocation day.
- The allocation day is published in the Gazette.
- The rate at which interest accrues is called the allocation rate.
- The allocation rate is published in the Gazette.
- Interest will not accrue to an account in the following cases:
 - (a) a deposit is refunded;
 - (b) a shortfall component is incorrectly credited to the account;
 - (c) the $1,200 limit has been avoided by the use of multiple accounts.

Division 2—Gross interest amount and net interest amount

37 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Division:

- The expressions gross interest amount and net interest amount are defined.
- Those expressions are used to work out:
 - (a) how interest is funded; and
 - (b) the rate at which interest accrues to an account.

38 Gross interest amount

For the purposes of this Part, the gross interest amount for a quarter is the sum of the following amounts:

- (a) the income derived by the Commonwealth during the quarter from the investment of amounts standing to the credit of the Special Account;
- (b) the amount (if any) determined by the Finance Minister in relation to the quarter having regard to the amount standing to the credit of the Special Account that remains uninvested from time to time during the quarter.

39 Net interest amount

Net interest amount

- (1) For the purposes of this Part, the net interest amount for a quarter is the gross interest amount for the quarter, reduced (but not below 0) by the sum of:
 - (a) the amount determined by the Commissioner of Taxation, where the amount represents a fair approximation of the costs

- incurred by the Commonwealth during the quarter in connection with the administration of this Act; and
- (b) the amount, or the total of the amounts, allocated to the quarter under subsection (3).

Note: Gross interest amount is defined by section 38.

Carry-forward amount

- (2) For the purposes of this section, if:
- (a) the amount determined under paragraph (1)(a) in relation to a quarter;
- exceeds:
- (b) the gross interest amount for the quarter;
- the excess is taken to be the carry-forward amount for the quarter.

Note: Gross interest amount is defined by section 38.

Allocation of carry-forward amounts

- (3) For the purposes of this section, the Finance Minister may determine that:
- (a) a carry-forward amount for a quarter is to be allocated to a later quarter; or
- (b) different parts of the carry-forward amount for a quarter are to be allocated to different later quarters.

Amortisation

- (4) For the purposes of this section, capital costs and development costs are to be amortised in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Investment costs

- (5) For the purposes of this section, the costs incurred by the Commonwealth in connection with the investment of amounts standing to the credit of the Special Account are taken to have been incurred in connection with the administration of this Act.

Division 3—Funding of interest

40 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Division:

- Interest is funded by crediting the net interest amount to the Special Account.
- An Unallocated Interest Pool is to be kept within the Special Account.
- Unallocated interest is represented by the balance of the Unallocated Interest Pool.
- In special cases, the Unallocated Interest Pool may be supplemented by crediting an amount to the Special Account.
- Since interest only accrues on the first $1,200 of an account balance, it is possible for a surplus to build up in the Unallocated Interest Pool. The surplus can be debited from the Special Account.

41 Crediting of net interest amount to the Special Account

As soon as practicable after the end of a quarter, an amount equal to the net interest amount for the quarter is to be credited to the Special Account.

Note: Net interest amount is defined by section 39.

42 Unallocated Interest Pool

Pool

- (1) For accounting purposes, a separate notional subcomponent, called the Unallocated Interest Pool, is to be kept within the Special Account.

Credits to Pool

- (2) An amount credited to the Special Account under section 41 is to be credited to the Unallocated Interest Pool.

Debits from Pool

- (3) The balance of the Unallocated Interest Pool is to be debited for the purposes of crediting interest to an individual's account.

43 Supplementation of Unallocated Interest Pool

When section applies

- (1) This section applies if the Finance Minister is satisfied that:
 - (a) the balance of the Unallocated Interest Pool is nil; or
 - (b) the balance of the Unallocated Interest Pool is, or is likely to be, insufficient to meet the requirements of the Unallocated Interest Pool.

Supplementation

- (2) The Finance Minister may determine that the Unallocated Interest Pool is to be supplemented by a specified amount.

Crediting of the supplementation amount

- (3) The specified amount is to be credited to the Special Account.

Section 44

Credit to Unallocated Interest Pool

- (4) The Unallocated Interest Pool is to be credited by the specified amount.

44 Debiting of unallocated interest

- (1) If the Commissioner of Taxation is satisfied that the balance of the Unallocated Interest Pool exceeds the requirements of the Unallocated Interest Pool, the Commissioner of Taxation must determine that the excess is surplus to the requirements of the Unallocated Interest Pool.
- (2) The Unallocated Interest Pool is to be debited by an amount equal to the excess.
- (3) An amount equal to the excess is to be debited from the Special Account.

Division 4—Allocation day and allocation rate

45 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Division:

- The allocation day for a quarter is published in the Gazette. The allocation day is the day on which interest is credited to accounts.
- The allocation rate for a quarter is published in the Gazette. The allocation rate is the rate at which interest accrues to an account.
- The allocation rate is worked out under section 47.

46 Gazettal of allocation day and allocation rate

- (1) As soon as practicable after an amount is credited to the Special Account under section 41 in respect of a quarter (the current quarter), the Commissioner of Taxation must, by notice published in the Gazette, declare that, for the purposes of this Part:
 - (a) a specified day in the quarter next following the current quarter is the allocation day for the current quarter; and
 - (b) a specified percentage is the allocation rate for the current quarter.

Note: To work out the allocation rate see section 47.

- (2) The declaration has effect accordingly.

47 Calculation of the allocation rate

Application of steps

- (1) To work out the allocation rate for a quarter, apply the following steps.

Part 6 Crediting of interest

Division 4 Allocation day and allocation rate

Section 47

Adjusted total balances

- (2) Calculate the adjusted total balances for the quarter by:
- (a) working out, for each day in the quarter, the total balances of all the accounts; and
 - (b) adding up those totals; and
 - (c) dividing the result by the number of days in the quarter.

For the purposes of this calculation, if an account balance actually exceeds $1,200, the account balance is taken to be $1,200.

Provisional rate

- (3) Calculate the provisional rate for the quarter as a percentage (to 4 decimal places) using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Net interest amount}}{\text{Adjusted total balances}} \times 100$$

where:

Net interest amount means the net interest amount for the quarter;

Adjusted total balances means the adjusted total balances for the quarter.

Note: Net interest amount is defined by section 39.

Total balances

- (4) Calculate the total balances for the quarter by:
- (a) working out, for each day in the quarter, the total balances of all the accounts; and
 - (b) adding up those totals; and
 - (c) dividing the result by the number of days in the quarter.

Capped rate

- (5) Calculate the capped rate as a percentage (to 4 decimal places) using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Gross interest amount}}{\text{Total balances}} \times 100$$

where:

Gross interest amount means the gross interest amount for the quarter;

Total balances means the total balances for the quarter.

Note: Gross interest amount is defined by section 38.

Allocation rate—comparison between provisional rate and capped rate

- (6) Compare the provisional rate with the capped rate:
- (a) if the provisional rate is less than or equal to the capped rate—the allocation rate equals the provisional rate; or
 - (b) if the provisional rate exceeds the capped rate—the allocation rate equals the capped rate.

Division 5—Crediting of interest

48 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Division:

- Interest accrues to an account on the daily balance of the account. Interest only accrues on the first $1,200 of the balance of the account.
- Interest is credited each quarter on the allocation day.

49 Accrual of interest on first $1,200 of daily balance

- (1) Interest accrues to an account each day on the balance of the account as at the end of that day.
- (2) For the purposes of this Division, if an account balance actually exceeds $1,200, the account balance is taken to be $1,200.

50 Rate of accrual, and crediting, of interest

When section applies

- (1) This section applies to interest that accrues under section 49.

Allocation day event, withdrawal event and inactive account debit event

- (2) Both:
 - (a) the rate of accrual of interest to an account in respect of a particular day (the accrual day) in a particular quarter; and
 - (b) the time at which accrued interest in respect of the accrual day is to be credited to the account;depends on whichever of the following events first happens after the accrual day:

- (c) the occurrence of the allocation day for the quarter (this event is to be known as the allocation day event);
- (d) the withdrawal under Part 7 of the balance of the account (this event is to be known as the withdrawal event);
- (e) the debiting of the balance of the account from the Special Account under Part 9 (this event is to be known as the inactive account debit event).

Allocation day event

- (3) If the allocation day event comes first:
 - (a) the rate of accrual is the percentage worked out (to 6 decimal places) using the formula:

Allocation rate

Total number of days in the quarter

where:

Allocation rate means the allocation rate for the quarter; and

- (b) the accrued interest is to be credited to the account on the allocation day.

Withdrawal event

- (4) If the withdrawal event comes first:
 - (a) the rate of accrual is the percentage worked out (to 6 decimal places) using the formula:

Adjusted allocation rate

Total number of days in the quarter

where:

Adjusted allocation rate means the last allocation rate that was published in the Gazette before the accrual day; and

- (b) the accrued interest is to be credited to the account on the day before the day of the withdrawal.

Inactive account debit event

- (5) If the inactive account debit event comes first:

Section 51

- (a) the rate of accrual is the percentage worked out (to 6 decimal places) using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Adjusted allocation rate}}{\text{Total number of days in the quarter}}$$

where:

Adjusted allocation rate means the last allocation rate that was published in the Gazette before the accrual day; and

- (b) the accrued interest is to be credited to the account on the day of the debit.

Transitional—withdrawal event before first allocation day

- (6) Despite paragraph (4)(a), if the withdrawal event occurs before the allocation day for the quarter beginning on 1 July 1995, that paragraph has effect, in relation to that event, as if the adjusted allocation rate were 0.4% or such higher rate as the Finance Minister determines.

51 Rounding up

If the total amount of interest to be credited to an account on a particular day (when expressed as a number of cents) is not a number of whole cents, that total must be rounded up to the nearest cent.

Division 6—Interest not to accrue in certain cases

52 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Division:

- Interest will not accrue to an account in the following cases:
 - (a) a deposit is refunded;
 - (b) a shortfall component is incorrectly credited to the account;
 - (c) the $1,200 limit has been avoided by the use of multiple accounts.

53 Interest does not accrue on refunded deposits

No interest

- (1) Despite section 49, interest does not accrue, and is taken never to have accrued, under that section in respect of so much of the balance of an account as is refunded under Part 8.

Reversing interest credit

- (2) If interest has been credited to an individual's account in contravention of subsection (1), the Commissioner of Taxation must debit the account by the amount of the credit. The debit must be made before the account balance is debited by the amount of the refund payment.

Unallocated Interest Pool to be credited

- (3) The Unallocated Interest Pool is to be credited by the amount of a debit under subsection (2).

Section 54

54 Interest does not accrue on shortfall components incorrectly credited to accounts

When section applies

- (1) This section applies if:
 - (a) an amount credited to an account under section 65 of the Superannuation Guarantee (Administration) Act 1992 exceeds the amount that should have been credited to the account; and
 - (b) the balance of the account is attributable, in whole or in part, to the credit.

No interest

- (2) Despite section 49, interest does not accrue, and is taken never to have accrued, under that section in respect of so much of the balance of the account as is attributable to the excess.

Debit reversing interest credit

- (3) If interest has been credited to the account in contravention of subsection (2), the Commissioner of Taxation must debit the account by the amount of the credit.

Unallocated Interest Pool to be credited

- (4) The Unallocated Interest Pool is to be credited by the amount of a debit under subsection (3).

55 Amalgamated accounts—no interest if $1,200 limit avoided

When section applies

- (1) This section applies if:
 - (a) the Commissioner becomes aware that 2 or more accounts (the separate accounts) are being kept in respect of the same individual; and

- (b) the Commissioner of Taxation amalgamates the separate accounts into a single account; and
- (c) immediately after the amalgamation, the balance of the amalgamated account exceeds $1,200.

Note: Section 18 empowers the Commissioner to amalgamate the separate accounts.

No interest if $1,200 limit avoided

- (2) If, because of the $1,200 limit referred to in subsection 49(2):
 - (a) the total amount of interest that accrued to the separate accounts before the day of the amalgamation;
exceeds:
 - (b) the total amount of interest that would have accrued to the amalgamated account if it were assumed that the amalgamated account had been in existence at all times since the earliest time at which any of the separate accounts was opened;then, despite section 49, the excess interest is taken never to have accrued under that section.

Debit to amalgamated account

- (3) If excess interest has been credited in contravention of subsection (2), the Commissioner of Taxation must debit the amalgamated account by an amount equal to the amount of the credit.

Credit to Unallocated Interest Pool

- (4) The Unallocated Interest Pool is to be credited by the amount of a debit under subsection (3).

Division 2—No withdrawals for 14 days after deposit credited to account etc.

57 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Division:

- An individual's account will be frozen for 14 days after a deposit is credited to the account.
- The delay gives the depositor a chance to apply for a refund of the deposit.
- If the depositor applies for a refund of the deposit, the 14-day period will be extended until the application is finalised.
- Accounts will be frozen for 14 days after a shortfall component is credited to the account.
- The delay gives the Commissioner of Taxation a chance to correct mistakes.

58 No withdrawals for 14 days after deposit credited to account etc.

When section applies

- (1) This section applies to an individual's account if:
 - (a) a deposit, or purported deposit, was made in respect of the individual; and

 - (c) a request under this Part (the individual's request) is made during the period of 14 days beginning at the deposit time.

Part 7 Withdrawal of account balances

Division 2 No withdrawals for 14 days after deposit credited to account etc.

Section 58

Individual's request frozen for 14 days

- (2) The individual's request has no effect at any time during that 14-day period.

Note: This gives the depositor a chance to apply for a refund of the deposit.

Individual's request frozen for additional period

- (3) If an application for a refund of the deposit or purported deposit was made under section 73 during that 14-day period, then:
- (a) if the refund application is granted—the individual's request has no effect at any time; or
 - (b) if the refund application is refused—the individual's request has no effect at a particular time if:
 - (i) the time is after the refund application is made but before the end of the period of 21 days after the giving of the notice of refusal; or
 - (ii) if, during that 21-day period, the refund applicant asks the Commissioner of Taxation to reconsider the refund application—the time is during the period when that reconsideration, or any later application to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal, has not been finalised.

When reconsiderations finalised

- (4) For the purposes of this section, a reconsideration of a decision is taken not to have been finalised during the period of 28 days after:
- (a) if, because of the operation of subsection 82(5), the decision is taken to be confirmed—the day on which the decision is taken to have been confirmed; or
 - (b) in any other case—the day on which the decision on the reconsideration is notified to the refund applicant.

59 No withdrawals for 14 days after shortfall component credited to account

Note: This gives the Commissioner a chance to correct mistakes.

Division 3—Timing of withdrawals

60 Timing of withdrawals

24-hour delay

- (1) If a request is made under this Part, the Commissioner of Taxation must wait at least 24 hours before complying with the request.
