Schedule 1—Amendments

Part 1—Amendments

Workplace Gender Equality Act 2012

1 Section 2B (after the paragraph beginning “This Act”)

Insert:

- Some larger employers (designated relevant employers) will also, every 3 years, need to select and include in their report targets (gender equality targets) against various gender equality indicators. Such employers are required to meet, or improve against, those targets over the following 3 year period (a target cycle).

2 Subsection 3(1)

Insert:

accountable authority has the same meaning as in the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability Act 2013.

baseline report, in relation to a target cycle; see subsection 13(3AB).

designated relevant employer means an employer that has become a designated relevant employer under subsection 4A(1) and has not ceased to be a designated relevant employer under subsection 4A(2).

gender equality target: see subsection 17B(2).

target cycle: see section 17A.

3 Paragraph 4(3)(a)

Repeal the paragraph, substitute:

- (a) if an employer is a body corporate that is a subsidiary (within the meaning of the Corporations Act 2001) of one or more other bodies corporate, and the subsidiary employs a person, the subsidiary and each of the other bodies corporate are taken to employ the person; and

4 At the end of subsection 4(3)

Add:

Example 1: For paragraph (a), a subsidiary employs 150 people. The subsidiary and each of its holding companies (within the meaning of those terms in the Corporations Act 2001) is a relevant employer, regardless of how many people each of the holding companies directly employs.

Example 2: For paragraph (a), a subsidiary employs 90 people. The subsidiary is not a relevant employer. A holding company of the subsidiary directly employs 10 people. The holding company, because it is taken to also employ the employees of the subsidiary (for the purposes of the definition of relevant employer), is a relevant employer.

5 After section 4

Insert:

4A Meaning of designated relevant employer

- (1) A relevant employer becomes a designated relevant employer if:

- (2) An employer ceases to be a designated relevant employer if:
 - (a) the number of employees of the employer falls below 400 for a continuous period of 6 months; or

Note: The number of employees for the purpose of this section does not include employees that the employer is taken under subsection 4(3) to employ for the purpose of the definition of relevant employer in subsection 4(1).

6 Before section 13

Insert:

Division 1—Reporting requirements

- (c) either:
 - (i) the relevant period ends at the same time as a target cycle for the employer; or the employer must, in the public report for the relevant period, select gender equality targets that the employer commits to achieving in the target cycle that begins immediately after the end of the relevant period.

(3AB) The public report mentioned in (3AA)(b) is the baseline report for the target cycle that begins immediately after the end of the relevant period.

17A Target cycles

- (1) A target cycle for a designated relevant employer is a 3-year period that begins on the same day as the next reporting period following a reporting period for a public report in which the employer has selected gender equality targets in accordance with subsection 13(3AA).
- (2) If an employer ceases, in accordance with subsection 4A(2), to be a designated relevant employer:
- (a) the employer does not have a target cycle; and
 - (b) section 17C does not apply to the employer in relation to a target cycle that the employer had immediately before ceasing to be a designated relevant employer.

Note: If the employer later becomes a designated relevant employer again, the employer’s new target cycle will be worked out in accordance with subsection (1) of this section.

17B Minister to set gender equality targets and selection rules

- (1) The Minister must, by legislative instrument:

- (a) set targets in relation to specified gender equality indicators and specified target cycles; and
- (b) specify rules for the selection of targets by designated relevant employers in specified target cycles.

Note 1: The Minister must consult the Agency before making legislative instruments under this Act (see section 33A).

Note 2: For specification by class, see subsection 13(3) of the Legislation Act 2003.

- (2) A target set by an instrument in force under subsection (1) is a gender equality target.
- (3) Rules specified in accordance with paragraph (1)(b) may (without limiting that paragraph) include rules that do any of the following:

 - (b) require the selection of a specified number of targets;

17C Failure to comply with gender equality targets

For the purposes of section 19D, a designated relevant employer is taken to fail to comply with this Act if, at the end of a target cycle for the employer, the employer has not, without reasonable excuse, in respect of each gender equality target selected by the employer for the target cycle, either:

- (a) met the target; or
- (b) demonstrated improvement against the target in the public report for the final year of the target cycle, as compared to the baseline report for the target cycle.

Note: If the employer does not have a reasonable excuse for the failure, the Agency may name the employer in a report given to the Minister or by electronic or other means: see section 19D.

12 Section 19CA

Before “For”, insert “(1)”.

13 At the end of section 19CA

Add:

- (2) If the relevant employer is a Commonwealth entity, a reference in this section to the CEO of the relevant employer is taken to be a reference to the accountable authority of the Commonwealth entity.

14 Subsection 19D(1) (at the end of the note)

Add:

; and (e) a designated relevant employer fails to select gender equality targets for a target cycle (see subsection 13(3AA)).

Part 2—Transitional provision

15 Designated relevant employer status before commencement
