3 Amendment of Radiocommunications (Interpretation) Determination 2000

Schedule 1 amends the Radiocommunications (Interpretation) Determination 2000.

Schedule 1 Amendments

(section 3)

[1] Schedule 1, definition of PTS licence

substitute

PTS licence means an apparatus licence:

(a) issued for a service that consists of 1 or more stations that are operated for the provision of a public mobile telecommunications service; or

(b) that authorises the operation of 1 or more stations (the licensed stations), where:

(i) the licensed stations communicate with mobile stations; and

(ii) the mobile stations are ordinarily used for or in relation to the supply of a public mobile telecommunications service, but when used in conjunction with the licensed stations, do not involve the use of the mobile stations for or in relation to the supply of a public mobile telecommunications service.

Note Paragraph (b) of the definition of PTS licence recognises that some stations may be used to deliver a carriage service to an end-user’s mobile device, but that service will not be a public mobile telecommunications service within the meaning of the Telecommunications Act 1997.
