Select Legislative Instrument 2013 No. 111

Issued by the Authority of the Minister for Climate Change, Industry and Innovation

National Measurement Act 1960

National Measurement Amendment (Fees and Verification) Regulation 2013

The principal objectives of the National Measurement Act 1960 (the Act) are to:

- establish a national system of units and standards of measurement of physical quantities;
- provide for the uniform use of those units and standards of measurement throughout Australia;
- co-ordinate the operation of the national system of measurement;
- provide for a system of verification of utility meters used for trade; and
- provide the legal framework for a national system of trade measurement.

Section 20 of the Act provides, in part, that the Governor-General may make regulations, not inconsistent with the Act, prescribing all matters required or permitted by the Act to be prescribed, or necessary or convenient to be prescribed for carrying out or giving effect to the Act.

The National Measurement Regulations 1999 (the Principal Regulations) support the establishment of the Commonwealth measurement system.

The Regulation revises the prescribed fees for the examination and testing of measuring instruments such as petrol bowsers and weighing scales for use for legal purposes including trade, to reflect the National Measurement Institute’s increased costs of providing these services and make a minor editorial correction to the Principal Regulations.

Details of the Regulation are set out in the Attachment.

The Regulation is a legislative instrument for the purposes of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003.

In accordance with section 17 of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003, consultation was undertaken with relevant stakeholders in respect of the Regulation.

We have also consulted with the Office of Best Practice Regulation and they have advised that a Regulation Impact Statement was not required.
