11 Deposit of moneys by manufacturer of records with owner of copyright in musical work

- (1) For the purposes of sub-subparagraph 55 (1) (d) (ii) (B) of the Act, the prescribed royalty payable to the owner of the copyright in a musical work, other than an owner in relation to whom subregulation (1) of regulation 13 of these Regulations applies, in respect of a record of that work may be paid as provided by this regulation.
- (2) For the purposes of this regulation:
- (a) an accounting period, in relation to the owner of the copyright and the manufacturer, is:

Regulation 11

- (b) the period of grace, in relation to a period that is an accounting period in relation to the owner of the copyright and the manufacturer, is the period of twenty-eight days, or such other period as is agreed between those persons, immediately following the expiration of that accounting period; and
- (c) a prescribed day, in relation to the owner of the copyright and the manufacturer, is any of the following days:
- (i) the last day of the period of six months immediately following the date on and from which the deposit made by the manufacturer with the owner under the next succeeding subregulation had effect;

- (5) The owner of the copyright:
- (a) shall lodge amounts deposited with him by the manufacturer under this regulation in an account (in this regulation referred to as the account) in their joint names in a bank in Australia, being an account in which no other moneys are lodged and in which the amounts deposited bear interest;
 - (b) shall, forthwith after the expiration of each month of the year, cause a copy of the bank statement relating to the account to be sent to the manufacturer;
 - (c) shall, at intervals of not more than six months, pay to the manufacturer out of the account an amount equal to the interest on the amounts from time to time standing to the credit of the account that accrued since the account was opened or the last payment was made by him to the manufacturer under this paragraph, as the case may be; and

- (d) shall not otherwise apply moneys standing to the credit of the account except as provided by the succeeding provisions of this regulation.

- (8) After each prescribed day in relation to the manufacturer and the owner of the copyright, the succeeding provisions of this regulation have effect.
- (9) The amount to be maintained on deposit by the manufacturer with the owner after the expiration of twenty-eight days after a prescribed day is such amount as is agreed between them or, in the absence of agreement, as is equal to the amount ascertained in accordance with the formula:

$$\frac{A \times B}{C}$$

where:

- (11) Where the amount to be maintained on deposit under subregulation (9) of this regulation after the expiration of twenty-eight days after a prescribed day is not agreed between the manufacturer and the owner of the copyright, this regulation ceases to apply as between those persons upon the expiration of that period unless the manufacturer sold or supplied records of musical works, being records in respect of which royalties were paid or payable under the Act or the previous Act by him to the owner of the copyright, during at least three of the months of the year included in the period of one year immediately preceding that prescribed day.
- (12) Where this regulation ceases to apply as between the manufacturer and the owner of the copyright by reason of the last preceding subregulation, the owner of the copyright shall, at the expiration of the period of grace in relation to the accounting period during which this regulation so ceased to apply, when the manufacturer has served a statement referred to in paragraph (a) of subregulation (6) of this regulation in relation to that accounting period, pay to the manufacturer so much of the amount standing to the credit of the account as does not exceed the amount of any royalties payable by the manufacturer to the owner in respect of records sold or supplied by the manufacturer during that accounting period or any previous accounting period and, if the amount is not so paid, the manufacturer may recover the amount in a court of competent jurisdiction from the owner as a debt due to the manufacturer.
- (13) Nothing in the last two preceding subregulations prevents the manufacturer making a further deposit with the owner of the copyright in accordance with subregulation (3) of this regulation if this regulation again applies as between those persons.

WARNING

Copyright owners are entitled to take legal action against persons who infringe their copyright. Unless otherwise permitted by the Copyright Act 1968 (the Act), unauthorised use of audio-visual items in which copyright subsists may infringe copyright in that item.

The Copyright Regulations 1969 (in force under the Copyright Act 1968) as shown in this compilation comprise Statutory Rules 1969 No. 58 amended as indicated in the Tables below.

Under the implementation of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003, which came into force on 1 January 2005, it is a requirement for all legislative instruments to be registered to the Federal Register of Legislative Instruments. From 1 January 2005 the Statutory Rules series ceased to exist and is replaced with Select Legislative Instruments (SLI). Numbering conventions remain the same, ie Year and Number.
