| 1 | If the small investment advice related to the purchase of options over unissued shares the total cost of the options would be both the cost to buy the options and the cost of the exercise price on the face of the options. |
| 2 | If the small investment advice relates to the purchase of partly paid shares the total cost of the shares must be calculated as if all calls had been made on the shares. |

Note: The total value of all financial investments in relation to which small investment advice is provided is calculated in accordance with subsection 946AA(2) of the Act.

- (4) For small investment advice to a client that is related to the disposal of one or more of the financial products listed in paragraphs (2)(a) to (f), the threshold amount in subregulation (1) must be calculated to include the total value of all financial investments that would be disposed of by the client if the advice were accepted by the client.

Note: The total value of all financial investments in relation to which small investment advice is provided is calculated in accordance with subsection 946AA(2) of the Act.

- (5) Subregulations (6) and (7) apply to each of the following financial products:

- (a) superannuation;
- (b) managed investment schemes;
- (c) non-derivative instalment warrants.

Regulation 7.7.09A

- (6) For small investment advice to a client that is related to the acquisition of one or more of the financial products listed in paragraphs (5)(a) to (c), the threshold amount in subregulation (1) must be calculated to include:
- (a) both:
 - (i) the cost to the client of the initial investment; and
 - (ii) other amounts that would be committed to by the client if the advice is taken; and
 - (b) if the investment is not finite—the value of the investment is calculated for the 12-month period beginning from the date that the record of advice is required by subregulation (10), (11) or (12) to be given to the client.

Examples:

1 Advice given in relation to switching superannuation funds

A person earning $50 000 per annum is given advice to switch an existing superannuation fund balance of $12 000 to another superannuation fund and direct all future superannuation guarantee contributions to that same fund. In this event the total of the superannuation guarantee contributions in the first 12-month period (ie $$50\,000 \times 0.09 = $4\,500$) when added to the initial $12 000 transfer, would exceed the $15 000 threshold. In this example the exemption, in section 946AA of the Act, from the requirement to provide a Statement of Advice would not apply.

2 Advice given to acquire non-derivative instalment warrants

The terms of the non-derivative instalment warrants are that $10 000 must be paid initially, a second payment of $12 000 in 18 months time and a third and final payment of $12 000 in 3 years time. The investment advice, assuming the client has committed to implementing the advice, concerns a $34 000 investment and therefore the exemption, in section 946AA of the Act, from the requirement to provide a Statement of Advice would not apply.

Note: The total value of all financial investments in relation to which small investment advice is provided is calculated in accordance with subsection 946AA(2) of the Act.

- (7) For small investment advice to a client that is related to the disposal of one or more of the financial products listed in paragraphs (5)(a) to (c), the threshold amount in subregulation (1) must be calculated to include:

Regulation 7.7.09A

- (a) the value to the client of the total divestment; and
- (b) other amounts reasonably related to the divestment that would be expended if the advice is taken.

Note: The total value of all financial investments in relation to which small investment advice is provided is calculated in accordance with subsection 946AA(2) of the Act.

- (8) If the total value of an investment, to which investment advice to a client relates, is not able to be ascertained under subsection 946AA(2) of the Act, the investment advice is taken to exceed the threshold amount in subregulation (1).
- (9) If an investment, to which investment advice relates, is jointly held by more than 1 client, the sum of the values of each client's investment must be calculated to determine whether the threshold amount in subregulation (1) is exceeded.

When record of advice is given

- (10) For subsection 946AA(4) of the Act, a record of advice is required to be given to a client when, or as soon as practicable after, investment advice is provided to the client and, in any event, subject to subregulation (12), before the providing entity provides the client with any further financial service that arises out of or in connection with the investment advice.

Statement of certain information if record of advice not given when advice provided

- (11) If the record of advice is not given to the client when the investment advice is provided, the providing entity must, at the time the investment advice is provided, give the client a statement that contains the information that would be required to be in a Statement of Advice by:
 - (a) paragraphs 947B(2)(d) and (e) of the Act; or
 - (b) paragraphs 947C(2)(e) and (f) of the Act;as the case requires, and by section 947D of the Act, if applicable.

Regulation 7.7.09AA

Time-critical cases

(12) If:

- (a) a client expressly instructs that they require a further financial service to be provided immediately, or by a specified time; and
- (b) the further financial service arises out of, or in connection with, the investment advice given to the client; and
- (c) it is not reasonably practicable to give a record of advice to the client before the further service is provided as so instructed;

the providing entity must give the client the record of advice:

- (d) unless paragraph (e) applies—within 5 days after providing the further service, or as soon as practicable; or
- (e) if the further financial service is the provision to the client of a financial product and section 1019B of the Act applies to the acquisition of the product by the client—before the start of the period applicable under subsection 1019B(3) of the Act, or sooner if practicable.

7.7.09AA Statement of Advice from financial services licensee

- (1) For paragraph 947B(2)(g) of the Act, a Statement of Advice given by a financial services licensee in relation to a margin lending facility, or a margin lending facility whose limit is proposed to be increased, within the meaning of subsection 761EA(1) of the Act must include the following information:
 - (a) whether the client has taken out a loan to fund the secured property or transferred securities contributed by the client for establishing the margin lending facility;

Note: This is sometimes referred to as ‘double gearing’.

- (b) if a loan to fund the secured property or transferred securities contributed by the client for establishing the margin lending facility has been taken out—whether the security for the loan includes the primary residential property of the client;
 - (c) whether there is a guarantor for the margin lending facility, and, if so:

Regulation 7.7.09AB

- (i) if the financial services licensee has the necessary information—a statement as to whether the guarantor has been appropriately informed of, and warned about, the risks and possible consequences of providing the guarantee; or
 - (ii) if the financial services licensee does not have the necessary information—a statement that the financial services licensee does not have the information;
 - (d) the amount of any other debt incurred by the client;
 - (e) any other matter that ASIC has specified in a legislative instrument for subregulation (2).
- (2) ASIC may specify in a legislative instrument any matter ASIC considers to be relevant for the purpose of establishing whether the margin lending facility, or the margin lending facility with the increased limit, is unsuitable for the client.

7.7.09AB Modification of subsection 947B(4) of the Act

For paragraph 951C(1)(c) of the Act, Part 7.7 of the Act applies as if subsection 947B(4) of the Act were modified by:

- (a) substituting the full stop at the end of paragraph (c) with a semi-colon; and
- (b) inserting after paragraph (c) the following paragraph:
‘(d) that ASIC may specify in a legislative instrument matters ASIC considers to be relevant for the purposes of paragraph 947B(2)(g) of the Act.’

7.7.09B Statement of Advice from providing entity—information not included in the Statement

- (1) For paragraphs 947B(4)(b) and 947C(4)(b) of the Act, a providing entity is not required to include a statement or information mentioned in Part 7.7 of the Act in a Statement of Advice to the client if the Statement of Advice:
- (a) refers to the statement or information; and

Regulation 7.7.09BA

- (b) provides sufficient details about the statement or information to enable the client:
 - (i) to identify by a unique identifier the document, or part of the document, that contains the statement or information; and
 - (ii) to decide whether or not to read the statement or information or obtain a copy of the statement or information; and
 - (c) states that a copy of the statement or information may be obtained from the providing entity on request, at no charge.
- (2) Subject to subregulation (3), the providing entity must give the client the document, or part of the document (whichever is applicable), unless the providing entity has already given the document or part of the document to the client.
- (3) If the providing entity is an authorised representative of an Australian financial services licensee, the document, or part of the document (whichever is applicable), may be provided to the client:
 - (a) by another authorised representative appointed by and acting on behalf of the licensee; or
 - (b) by the licensee.
- (4) If the client requests a copy of a statement or information that the providing entity is not required to include in accordance with subregulation (1), the providing entity must provide the copy as soon as practicable, at no charge.
- (5) If a statement or information is not required to be included in a Statement of Advice because of subregulation (1), the statement or information is taken to be included in the Statement of Advice.
- (6) The exemption in subregulation (1) does not apply to a statement or information that is required by section 947D or 961H of the Act.

Note: This is sometimes referred to as ‘double gearing’.

- (b) if a loan to fund the secured property or transferred securities contributed by the client for establishing the margin lending facility has been taken out—whether the security for the loan includes the primary residential property of the client;

First situation: further advice

- (1) The providing entity does not have to give the client a Statement of Advice for particular advice (the further advice) if subsection (2) or (2A) applies.
- (2) This subsection applies if:
- (a) the providing entity has previously given the client a Statement of Advice that set out the client’s relevant personal circumstances in relation to the advice (the previous advice) set out in that Statement; and
 - (b) the client’s relevant personal circumstances in relation to the further advice (determined having regard to the client’s objectives, financial situation and needs as currently known to the providing entity) are not significantly different from the client’s relevant personal circumstances in relation to the previous advice; and
 - (c) so far as the basis on which advice is given relates to other matters—the basis on which the further advice is given is not significantly different from the basis on which the previous advice was given.

Note: Paragraphs 947B(2)(b) and 947C(2)(b) require a Statement of Advice to include information about the basis on which the advice is or was given, which may include the client's relevant personal circumstances, in which case paragraph (a) of this subsection would be satisfied.

(2A) This subsection applies if:

- (a) the client had a relationship with the providing entity before:
 - (i) if the providing entity is a licensee—the day on which the providing entity obtained its Australian financial services Licence; or
 - (ii) if the providing entity is an authorised representative—the day on which the licensee on whose behalf the advice is provided obtained its Australian financial services Licence; and
- (b) the providing entity gave the client advice (the earlier advice) of a kind that if it were given after the day the Australian financial services Licence was obtained would be considered to be personal advice; and
- (c) the client's relevant personal circumstances in relation to the further advice are not significantly different from the client's investment objectives, financial situation and particular needs that were determined for the earlier advice; and
- (d) so far as the basis on which advice is given relates to other matters—the basis on which the further advice is given is not significantly different from the basis on which the earlier advice was given.

(3) At the same time or as soon as practicable after the further advice is given to the client, the client must be given a statement that contains the information that would, if a Statement of Advice were to be given, be required to be in the Statement by paragraphs 947B(2)(d) and (e), or 947C(2)(e) and (f), as the case requires, and by section 947D, if applicable.

(3A) The providing entity must keep a record of the further advice and, in doing so, must comply with any applicable requirements of regulations made for the purposes of this subsection.

Note 1: Failure to comply with this subsection is an offence (see subsection 1311(1)).

 - (b) a facility for making non-cash payments (see section 763D) that is related to a basic deposit product;

‘Money loses value over time. In this case, the value of the total instalment payments being offered to you is approximately the same as being paid a single amount of $X today. $X represents the ‘present day value’ of the instalment payments. Commonwealth legislation sets out a method for calculating the present value of the offer, using the rate of interest of 1.1% per month. You can assess this offer by comparing the present day value of the instalment payments ($X) with the total market price of your shares or other financial products ($Y).

‘In general, if the present day value of the instalment payments being offered is less than the market price of your shares or other financial products, then this offer may not be fair to you.’

$$\sum_{p=1}^n \frac{R_p}{1.011^{t_p}}$$

n is the number of instalment payments to be made.

R_p is the amount of instalment payment number p, where each instalment payment is assigned a number from 1 to n.
