In this Division:

rule to show cause means a rule calling on a person, or an organisation, to show cause why an order should not be made under section 163, 164 or 164A, or subsection 167 (2) of the RAO Schedule in relation to the person or organisation.

Note 1 Under section 163 of the RAO Schedule, a member of an organisation may apply to the Court for an order declaring that the whole or a part of a rule of the organisation contravenes section 142 of the RAO Schedule (which states general requirements for rules), or that the rules of the organisation contravene section 142 of the RAO Schedule in a particular respect.

Note 2 Under section 164 of the RAO Schedule, a member of an organisation may apply to the Court for an order giving directions for the performance or observance of any of the rules of the organisation by any person who is under an obligation to perform or observe the rules.

Note 3 Under section 164A of the RAO Schedule, a member of an organisation may apply to the Court for an order directing 1 or more persons (who may be, or include, the person who has breached the rule or rules) to do specified things that will, in the opinion of the Court, as far as is reasonably practical, place the organisation in the position in which it would have been if the breach of the rule or rules had not occurred. The Court may make such an order if satisfied that a person who was under an obligation to perform or observe the rule or rules of the organisation has acted unreasonably in so breaching the rule or rules.

Note 4 Under subsection 167 (1) of the RAO Schedule a person or organisation may apply to the Court for a declaration as to the entitlement of a person to be admitted as a member of the organisation or to remain a member of the organisation.
