

INSTRUMENT NUMBER: CASA 880/99

CIVIL AVIATION ACT 1988

CIVIL AVIATION REGULATIONS 1988

DIRECTION UNDER SUBREGULATION 196(3)

I, Richard Godfrey Yates, Assistant Director, Aviation Safety Standards, CASA, a delegate of CASA, under subregulation 196 (3) of the Civil Aviation Regulations 1988, direct that an aeroplane having Australian nationality does not have to display the anti-collision light described in that subregulation if it displays a flashing white strobe light visible at any time in all directions within 30 degrees above and 30 degrees below the aeroplane's horizontal plane.
