

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

Social Security (Assurances of Support) (DEEWR) Amendment Determination 2011 (No. 1)

Summary

The Social Security (Assurances of Support) (DEEWR) Amendment Determination 2011 (No. 1) (the Amendment Determination) is made under subsection 1061ZZGH (1) of the Social Security Act 1991 (the Act). Subsection 1061ZZGH (1) of the Act provides that the Minister must, by legislative instrument, make a determination specifying the requirements to be met in relation to persons for them to be permitted by section 1061ZZGB to give assurances of support.

The Amendment Determination amends the Social Security (Assurance of Support) (DEEWR) Determination 2008 (Principal Determination). The Amendment Determination repeals and substitutes subsection 7 (1) of the Principal Determination which refers to the definition of 'individual' in the Acts Interpretation Act 1901 (the Interpretation Act). This is because the Acts Interpretation Amendment Act 2011 amends the Interpretation Act so that, from 27 December 2011, the definition of 'individual' will be contained in s 2B of the Interpretation Act, not s 22 of the Interpretation Act. The definition of 'individual', which provides that individual means 'a natural person', will remain the same.

Notes on Clauses

Sections 1 and 2 of the Amendment Determination are mechanical provisions that provide for the name of the instrument and its commencement, respectively. The commencement is to coincide with the commencement of the amendments to the Interpretation Act.

Section 3 repeals and substitutes subsection 7 (1) of the Principal Determination. This will update the reference to the Interpretation Act provision containing the definition of 'individual'. This subsection specifies that the requirements in section 7 are for individuals, and not bodies. From 27 December 2011, the Interpretation Act will be amended as outlined in the summary above.
