Part 2A: Overseas living allowances

Division 1: General provisions

15.2A.1 Simplified outline of Part 2A

Overseas living allowances offset the likely effects of a long-term posting overseas on members and their dependants living with them at the posting location. These allowances assist the member in meeting unexpected living costs associated with the posting and the added costs at the posting location. Meal allowance and clothing allowance may be provided in limited circumstances.

Overseas living allowances consist of the following:

- Cost of living adjustment, which helps maintain the purchasing power of the member's income and provide an equivalent standard of living at the posting location overseas. The allowance has the effect of adjusting the member's salary by the post index rate that applies to their posting location (see Division 2).
- Cost of posting allowance, which compensates a member for financial and non-financial disadvantage due to the overseas posting. The allowance is based on a percentage of the member's salary and is subject to lower and upper limits (see Division 3).
- Child supplement allowance, which assists a member with the additional costs inherent in maintaining a child by providing the member an allowance for each child living with a member in the posting location overseas. The base rate of allowance is a fixed amount relevant to the child's age, which is modified by the post index rate of the posting location (see Division 4).

The overseas living allowances may be affected by the location and period of the member's posting overseas, and the member's categorisation. The absence of the member or their family from the posting location also affects the payment of overseas living allowances (see Division 5).

Meal allowances may be provided to a member who performs additional duty on a day (see section 15.2A.27) or for the costs of meals when they are in living-in accommodation (see section 15.2A.28).

An allowance for the cost of special garments is also available if the member is required to purchase additional garments due to dress codes imposed by religious custom or law at the posting location (see section 15.2A.29).

15.2A.8 Effect of non-Commonwealth allowances on the overseas living allowances

1. This section applies if a member receives a benefit from another entity for a similar or comparable purpose to that of a benefit provided by this Part.

2. The comparable benefit paid under this Part is reduced by the amount of the benefit received.

15.2A.9 The dual Commonwealth benefit rule

1. This section applies to a member if all of the following apply to their partner.

    a. The member's partner is posted to the same location as the member.

Rectified Authorised Version registered 21/08/2026 F2026C00729

b. The member's partner is eligible for a benefit from the Commonwealth that is for the same or a comparable purpose to the benefits provided under this Part.

2 The member ceases to be eligible for a benefit under this Part if the member's partner has a higher salary than the member and has been nominated to receive the comparable benefit.

3 If subsection 2 applies, and the member receives a benefit under this Part, the member must repay the amount received.

$$cost\ of\ living\ adjustment = ((A - B) \times C) \times \left(\frac{D - 100}{100}\right)$$

Where:

This Part provides the health costs that may be covered by Defence for a person approved to live with a member on a long-term posting overseas. This Part sets out who can receive health costs during an overseas posting (see section 15.5.3). A person who is in the posting location on using a reunion travel benefit may be eligible for specific health costs in limited circumstances (see section 15.5.3 and 15.5.5). The Part also provides how costs can be claimed (see Division 2).

Health costs include costs for medical goods and services (see Division 4), hospital costs (see Division 5), dental treatment (see Division 7), pharmaceutical products (see Division 8), vaccinations and anti-malaria drugs (see section 15.5.23), mental health services (see section 15.5.24) and ambulance and other medical transport (see section 15.5.25). If the person is not eligible for a health cost under Part 5 of Chapter 15, they may be able to claim the cost as an ancillary service (see Division 10).

If a person is pregnant they must seek approval to be eligible for childbirth costs in the posting location (see Division 6). There are various factors that the CDF will consider when deciding whether childbirth costs will be covered in the posting location (see section 15.5.17).

If costs associated with childbirth are not approved in the posting location the pregnant person is eligible for travel benefits to and from Australia (see section 15.5.38). The member and their children may also be eligible for travel benefits to return to Australia to support the birth (see sections 15.5.39 and 15.5.40). The pregnant person will not receive reimbursement under Part 5 of Chapter 15 for any childbirth costs incurred in Australia or a third county.

A person may be eligible for travel costs to another location to receive emergency or non-emergency health care (see Division 11). Travel costs may also be available for a chaperone to accompany the person (see section 15.5.31), or for a child to accompany the person (see section 15.5.30). Part 3: Conditions of service – overview

17.3.1 Introduction

The ADF pay structure comprises a basic salary supplemented by work-related allowances. The basic salary, determined by the Defence Force Remuneration Tribunal, compensates a member for peacetime work. 17.3.2 Class of air travel – warlike and non-warlike deployments

1. This section applies to members travelling to, on or from warlike or non-warlike deployments.

2. Other provisions about class of air travel do not apply to members who travel in an aircraft owned or chartered by the Commonwealth. The travel arrangements are as provided on board the aircraft.

3. If members travel by commercial air service, they are eligible for travel in the class that corresponds to their rank, as follows.

    a. For a member who holds the rank of Brigadier or higher — business class.

    b. For a member who holds the rank of Colonel or lower — economy class.

4. Despite paragraph 17.3.2.3.b, the member is eligible to travel business class if the CDF is satisfied it is reasonable having regard to all of the following.

    a. Any special circumstances prevent the person from travelling economy class.

    b. The member is part of a group, unit or headquarters travelling at the same time and for the same or a similar purpose.

    c. The nature of the duties being undertaken in the course of the travel.

    d. The member's health.

    e. The status and class of air travel benefit of a person the member is required to accompany during the air travel in the course of duty.
