instruments.

9. Every instrument bearing what purports to be the common seal of the Trust and purporting to be signed by the Bishop and two other members of the Trust shall, in favour of every person claiming, for value and in good faith, under or through that instrument, be conclusively presumed to have been duly executed by the Trust.

A purchaser, mortgagee, lessee or other person dealing with the Trust, and the Registrar of Titles, the Crown Solicitor or any other person registering or certifying title shall not, upon any sale, exchange, mortgage, lease or other dealing purporting to be made under a power conferred by this Ordinance be concerned to see or inquire into the necessity for or propriety thereof, or the mode of exercising the same, or be affected by notice that the exercise of the power is unauthorized, irregular or improper, and a receipt for any money payable to the Trust, signed by the Bishop, shall be a sufficient discharge in favour of, and shall exonerate the person paying such money from all responsibility for the application of such money.

(2.) Where—

- (a) an instrument purports to have been executed in the exercise of a power conferred by this Ordinance, and to pass or create an estate or interest in land described in the instrument as being Church trust property; and
- (b) the land which the instrument purports to pass or affect is not, in fact, under the provisions of the Real Property Ordinance 1925-1936, or the Real Property Act, 1900 of New South Wales in its application to the Territory; and

- (ii) in favour of every person claiming any estate or interest under or through the instrument and having taken for value, without notice that the land in which the instrument purports to create an estate or interest was not Church trust property or that the Trust had not an estate or interest sufficient to make the instrument effective to pass or create the estate or interest which the instrument purported to pass or create, and in favour of every person claiming under or through any person having so taken, as against every person claiming under or through an instrument executed before the commencement of this Ordinance or under or through an instrument executed by the Trust, and not in either such case registered under the Registration of Deeds Act, 1897, of New South Wales in its application to the Territory, before the registration under that Act of the instrument by this sub-section made evidence, be conclusive evidence that the land described in the instrument so made evidence as being Church trust property situated in the Territory, was at the time of the execution of that instrument so situated; and that at the time of the execution of that instrument the Trust had an estate or interest in the land so described sufficient to make that instrument effective to pass or create the estate or interest which that instrument purported to pass or create.

(3.) Any person, other than the Trust, deprived of any estate or interest in land by any such instrument as is mentioned in sub-section (2.) of this section may bring and prosecute an action for damages against the Trust and any judgment recovered by the plaintiff in any such action shall be enforceable by execution against any real or personal property for the time being vested in the Trust, whether Church trust property or not, and any real or personal property taken by a purchaser on a sale in any such execution shall be free of all trusts affecting the same while vested in the execution debtor, except a trust created by the Crown, and the proceeds of every such sale shall, in the hands of the sheriff and of the execution creditor, be free of all trusts to which it would be subject in the hands of the execution debtor.

11. A certificate under the common seal of the Trust that the land described in the certificate is situated within the Territory and is Church trust property shall—<sup>Evidence.</sup>

- (a) for the purpose of any application by the Trust to be registered as the proprietor pursuant to a vesting by this Ordinance of any land under the provisions of the Real Property Ordinance 1925-1936, or the Real Property Act 1900 of New South Wales in its application to the Territory of which the Trust is not the registered proprietor, be conclusive evidence; and
- (b) be in any action, suit or other proceeding, whether civil or criminal be prima facie evidence of the facts so certified.

12. All Church trust property for the time being vested in the Trust shall be held by it on the trusts, if any, expressly declared in respect thereof, and if no such trusts have been expressly declared, on trust for the Church in the Diocese: <sup>Trusts preserved.</sup>

Provided that the powers conferred by section eight of this Ordinance shall be exercisable in relation to all Church trust property notwithstanding any trust or provision affecting it in the hands of the Trust.

13. No title to any land granted by the Crown before the commencement of this Ordinance, for or for the use, benefit or purposes of the Church shall be held bad, either at law or in equity, by reason of any breach or non-performance, before or after the commencement of this Ordinance, of any condition, trust or proviso contained in the grant by the Crown of the land, and every provision for forfeiture or reverter in respect of any such breach or non-performance shall be deemed to have been released by the Crown as from the date of the Crown grant. <sup>Validation of grants.</sup>
