THIS Order is for the purpose of permitting oversea ships, not licensed to engage in the coasting trade of the Commonwealth, to carry passengers and goods on the coast in the special circumstances set out in the Order.

A person exclusively employed by a Shipowner or Agent is already permitted to make a coastal voyage on one of that Shipowner's or Agent's ships. Para. (a) of the Second Schedule to the Order permits the family or effects of such an employee to be likewise carried when he is travelling on the business of the owner or agent, or when he has been transferred to another place.

The Order also permits a wife or a husband, as the case may be, of a person travelling on an oversea ship to accompany that person along the coast.

EXEMPTION FROM COASTING TRADE PROVISIONS OF THE ACT OF SHIPS CARRYING PASSENGERS OR CARGO UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES.

- (a) the requirements to become licensed under the said Act to engage in that trade; and
- (b) the requirements specified in the sections and schedules set out in the First Schedule to this Order:

And whereas by section 422A of the said Act it is among other things enacted that where the Governor-General is satisfied, as regards any ship or class of ships, that such circumstances exist as render compliance with any specified requirement of that Act impracticable, or make insistence upon compliance with that requirement undesirable in the public interest, he may, by order, direct that that ship or class of ships shall not be required to comply with that requirement:

And whereas it is by the said section further enacted that any directions under that section may be unconditional or subject to such conditions, limitations and restrictions as are expressed in the order:

And whereas I am satisfied that as regards ships not licensed under the said Act to engage in the coasting trade, such circumstances exist as make it undesirable in the public interest to insist upon compliance by those ships with the aforesaid requirements in respect of the carriage by them of the passengers or cargo specified in the first column of the Second Schedule to this Order, where the carriage is subject to the conditions, limitations and restrictions respectively set out in the second column of that Schedule:
