APPOINTMENT, RECRUITMENT AND EXAMINATION NOTICES*RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS AT THE AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL UNIVERSITY

APPLICATIONS are invited from permanent officers of the Commonwealth Service for Research Fellowships in 1970. The Fellowships will entitle Fellows to spend one year in a department of the Australian National University.

Eligibility—Fellowships will be available to senior officers of substantial experience who would benefit from a period of reading and supervised writing on a research topic. The primary purpose of the Fellowship is not to enable officers to obtain a higher degree but to provide them with the opportunity to make a worthwhile contribution to a particular field of research. The field of research, chosen by the Fellow in conjunction with his Department and the University, must be of interest and benefit to both the University and the Commonwealth Service.

Selection—Applicants for Fellowships must first obtain sponsorship from their Departments. Departments will submit nominations, which will be considered by a selection committee.

Benefits—Fellows will receive full salary for the period of Fellowship. The University will pay costs of the Fellow's travel to Canberra, and may provide accommodation at normal charges for Fellows not resident in Canberra. If possible, single Fellows will live at University House, and married Fellows with families will be provided with furnished houses or apartments. Fellows engaged in research are entitled to attend seminar groups and discussions within the University in their general fields of interest. Successful officers will take up the Fellowship at the beginning of the academic year in March 1970.

Conditions—A Fellow will be required to produce a paper on his year's work at the University and to enter into a bond to remain in the Commonwealth Service for a period of three years after completion of the Fellowship.

The Australian National University has furnished the following list of suggested research fields for 1970.

INSTITUTE OF ADVANCED STUDIES*John Curtin School of Medical Research

Education Research Unit (Mr Anderson): The professions and education in universities and colleges of advanced education in Australia.

Economic History (Professor Butlin): Areas likely to be of most interest to Commonwealth Officers include quantitative analysis of economic growth and development in Australia, including the comparative study with overseas countries. The work is at three levels covering the preparation of statistical series of historical social accounting data, the interpretation of the data, and its use in analytical studies. The statistical data include employment and unemployment, quantum estimates of industry product, capital stock, public authority transactions, and analysis of foreign trade and investment since the First World War. Interpretative work is mainly devoted to quality change in price and quantum series and use of figures of aggregate output for welfare and productivity comparison. Analytical studies cover a wide field, including particular studies of the effect of a government activity on the character and direction of economic development of selected industries, the association between economic growth and capital inflow and the labour capital productivity in Australia.

There is also opportunity for traditional and descriptive studies in economic history, including business and institutional histories.

Economics (Professor Swan): A suitable research project in many instances would be to take some episode or problem of public policy from the recent past or the present and to analyse its background and implications.

History (Professor La Nauze): Current research is concerned with Australian, modern British, and Indian history. The most relevant field is the early history (1901-14) of the Australian Commonwealth—political, administrative or diplomatic.

Law (Professor Sawyer): Federal Constitutional Law; Administrative Law; Private and Common Law (contracts, torts, etc.).

Philosophy (Professor Passmore): Higher education, problems in political and social philosophy, history of philosophy.

History of Ideas Unit (Dr Kamenka): Relations between political, social, philosophical and literary ideas.

Political Science (Professor Parker): Historical development of a selected function of the Commonwealth Government; modes and problems of Commonwealth-State participation in one of the concurrent functions of government; recruitment and composition of senior administrative staff in public services; how the Statutory Corporation form affects policy making and administration in any corporation; the formulation and administration of Australian tariff policy; legal and administrative aspects of 'extra-Constitutional' activities of the Commonwealth, e.g. in research, education, civil aviation control and facilities, regional development, labour relations, e.g. implementing of ILO conventions, employment and vocational guidance services; public health administration; regional structure and administration of selected Commonwealth Departments, e.g. is the State unit the most convenient? possible scope for delegation to departments of staffing functions under the Public Service Act; administrative problems arising from Public Service Arbitration.

Sociology (Professor Partridge): Occupational and social structure and mobility, urbanisation, the professions, social institutions (e.g. social services, education) and the sociology of religion.

Statistics (Professor Moran): Mathematical statistics, probability theory, and their applications in physical and biological science.

Urban Research Unit (Dr Neutze): Urban land market, private development and redevelopment, public authorities (e.g. Housing, Water and Sewerage Authorities) and local governments as they operate in urban areas; and traffic accidents.

Research School of Pacific Studies

Anthropology and Sociology (vacant): Studies in the social, administrative and judicial development of Papua and New Guinea; the position of aborigines and other ethnic groups in the Northern Territory and in the States.
