Australian Securities Commission Supplement to the Business Gazette contains Notices under the Corporations Law and is published monthly. General distribution of these notices will be by their inclusion in the next published issue of the Business Gazette.

Special issues include notices which require urgent publication. All costs associated with producing Specials will be borne by the responsible department or authority. A limited number of Special Gazettes will be made available for sale from the Commonwealth Government Bookshop, Canberra, on the day of publication. General distribution of these notices will be by their inclusion in the next published issue of the Government Notices Gazette or Business Gazette as well as in the next published issue of the series of the Gazette in which the notice would normally have been published.

Tariff concessions issues contain notices of tariff concessions proposed, granted or revoked in accordance with the provisions of Part XVA of the Customs Act 1901. These issues are published each Wednesday and are sold at $2.95 or on subscription only at $115.00 for 50 issues including surface postage.

Periodic issues contain lengthy notices of a non-urgent nature, including the following: Australian Public Service conditions of entry and advancement; holders of import licences and tariff quotas; notification by Australian Securities Commission of intention to deregister defunct companies. Issues are made at irregular intervals as required, at individual prices according to size. Advice of availability is given in the Government Notices and Business issues immediately following the day of publication. Periodic issues are not available on subscription, but standing orders are accepted for all selected issues.

Purchasing and Disposals issues of the Gazette provide information on Commonwealth purchases and disposals and other matters of general interest to persons buying from or selling to the Commonwealth. These issues are published each Wednesday and sold at $3.95 or on subscription of $200.00 including postage for 50 issues.

Index issues contain references to entries in the Government Notices and the related Special and Periodic issues. Index issues are published quarterly, are available over the counter from Commonwealth Government Bookshops and are supplied without charge to annual subscribers to the Government Notices issues.

Chemicals issues of the Gazette provide information on the National Industrial Chemicals Notification and Assessment Scheme (NICNAS). These issues are published monthly and the cost is variable.

Notice pursuant to section 16 of the National Food Authority Act 1991

SUPPLEMENTARY FOODS

The National Food Authority has before it two applications from Kiwi Brands Pty Ltd to amend the Food Standards Code. One was received on 19 December 1991 and sought to make provision for 'Akta-Vite'. The other was received on 21 February 1992 and sought to make provision for 'sports drinks'.

The Authority has now completed a full assessment of the applications and has prepared a new Draft Standard R9 - Supplementary Foods - which would standardise supplemented drinks such as 'Akta-Vite' and energy-electrolyte drinks including 'sports drinks'. The Authority will now conduct an inquiry to consider this draft standard.

To assist in this process the Authority invites written submissions on matters relevant to the purposes of the inquiry.

Any correspondence or submissions on these matters should quote Application No. 111 or Application No. 124.

Submissions received will be placed on the public register of the Authority unless a claim of commercial confidentiality (either in respect of all or part of the submission) is made and justified.

Submissions in respect of the above applications should be forwarded to the address shown below, to be received by 16 September 1992.

ANTIOXIDANTS IN ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

The National Food Authority received an application from the New South Wales Department of Health on 1 November 1991, to amend the Food Standards Code (FSC) by varying Standard A7 - Antioxidants - so as to clarify the need to label for the presence of ascorbic acid, erythorbic acid or their sodium salts or a mixture of these when used as antioxidants in beer, beer products, cider or perry.

Reference to the use of these antioxidants in these products does not appear in the Table in Standard A7. The applicant is concerned that this anomaly raises doubt as to the permission for this use of the antioxidants and thus the need to label for their presence as prescribed in paragraph (5)(b) of the same standard.

After undertaking a preliminary assessment, the Authority has now completed a full assessment of the application. The Authority has prepared a draft variation to Standard A7 - Antioxidants - to address this anomaly but did not consider further amendment of the Food Standards Code was warranted in relation to labelling for the presence of antioxidants in beer. The Authority will hold an inquiry to consider the draft.

To assist in the process, the Authority invites written submissions on matters relevant to the draft variation. Any submission received will be placed on the public register of the Authority unless a claim of commercial confidentiality (either in respect of all or a part of the submission) is made and justified.

All submissions should be forwarded to the address shown below by 16 September 1992. Any correspondence or submissions on this matter should refer to Application No 95. Further information on the proposal can be obtained by writing to:

SMOKE FLAVOURED FISH

The National Food Authority received an application on 7 November 1991 from the New South Wales Health Department to vary Standard D2 - Canned Fish, Canned Fish Products - to correct the anomalous reference to smoke flavoured fish.

Standard D2(1)(a) refers to canned fish products as including the products prepared from 'smoke flavoured fish'. Standard D1 - Fish - however, no longer contains provision for the addition of smoke flavouring to either fish or canned fish.

After undertaking a preliminary assessment, the Authority has now completed a full assessment of the application, and has prepared a draft variation to Standard D1 - Fish - to provide for the addition of smoke flavouring to fish and fish products. The Authority will hold an inquiry to consider the draft variation.

To assist in the process, the Authority invites written submissions on matters relevant to the draft variation. Any submission received will be placed on the public register of the Authority unless a claim of commercial confidentiality (either in respect of all or a part of the submission) is made and justified.

All submissions should be forwarded to the address shown below by 16 September 1992. Any correspondence or submissions on this matter should refer to Application No 91. Further information on the proposal can be obtained by writing to:

UPDATED FOOD ADDITIVE NUMBERS

The National Food Authority has before it an application dated 15 October 1991 from the Council of Australian Food Technology Associations Incorporated (CAFTA) to amend the Food Standards Code to vary Standard A1 - Labelling and Advertising by updating its Schedule of food additive code numbers to align with recent amendments to the international numbering system prepared by the Codex Alimentarius Commission (Codex) for identifying food additives.

The Authority has completed a full assessment of the application and has prepared a draft variation to the Code which identifies changes to the Schedule in Standard A1 to align with Codex, and makes consequential amendments to Standards A6 - Flavourings and Flavour Enhancers, A10 - Modifying Agents and K3 - Confectionery. The Authority will now conduct an inquiry to consider this draft.

To assist in this process the Authority invites written submissions on matters relevant to the purposes of the inquiry.

Any submissions received will be placed on the public register of the Authority unless a claim of commercial confidentiality (either in respect of all or a part of the submission) is made and justified.

All submissions should be forwarded to the address shown below and received by 16 September 1992. Any correspondence or submissions on this matter should quote Application No 85.

NATIONAL FOOD AUTHORITYFOOD STANDARDS*Notice pursuant to section 17 of the National Food Authority Act 1991*LABELLING OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

The National Food Authority received an application from the New South Wales Department of Health on 4 November 1991, to amend the Food Standards Code (FSC) by varying Standard A1 - Labelling and Advertising - so as to remove the exemption for alcoholic beverages from ingredient labelling requirements.

Alcoholic beverages are required under current provisions of the Food Standards Code to have a label declaring the per cent alcohol content. However, under clause (5)(b)(iv) of Standard A1, certain foods are exempt from the requirement to show a full list of ingredients. Included in this exemption, under clause (5)(b)(iv)(A), are alcoholic beverages specified in Standards P1-P4. Other alcoholic beverages, the labelling of which is addressed in Standard P5 - Labelling of Alcoholic Beverages Not Elsewhere Standardised - are not exempt from ingredient labelling requirements, for example wine coolers.

The application sought removal of the exemption for alcoholic beverages on the grounds that it is inequitable and is not in keeping with international trends.

After seeking public comment on this application, the Authority has now completed a full assessment and has decided to reject the application. The reasons for this decision are as follows:

- . the failure of the application to provide a method for achieving ingredient labelling of alcoholic beverages which is both accurate and meaningful; and
- . ingredient labelling of alcoholic beverages, although intended to promote informed choice by consumers, may in fact run a very real risk of misleading them as there is a considerable transformation of ingoing ingredients during the production of most alcoholic beverages.

DEFINITION OF SCOTCH WHISKY

The National Food Authority received an application from the Scotch Whisky Association (Edinburgh) on 7 August 1991 to amend the Food Standards Code (FSC) by varying Standard P3 - Spirits and Liqueurs - to define Scotch whisky as containing not less than 400 mL/L at 20°C of ethanol, or 40% alcohol by volume.

Standard P3 currently standardises all spirits as containing not less than 370 mL/L at 20°C of ethanol.

The application sought to re-define the minimum alcohol content of Scotch whisky as 40% alcohol by volume to bring Australia into line with recently revised definitions in the United Kingdom and the European Community.

The application claimed that this would assure Australian consumers of consistent quality and character in the range of available Scotch whisky products, facilitate price comparisons between brands and bring benefits to Australian industry.

After seeking public comment on this application, the Authority has now completed a full assessment and has decided to reject the application. The reasons for this decision are as follows:

- . that the application relies on the integrity of the relationship between quality and alcoholic strength to assure claimed benefits to the consumer and in turn to the Australian Scotch whisky industry; but
- the technical data presented by the applicant cannot be regarded as evidence of a quality differential between whisky at 40% alcohol by volume and whisky at lower strength in the absence of other information;
- the quality of Scotch whisky is not only related to its alcoholic strength, but is determined by blending and a complex interplay of many factors during dilution over the concentration range in question; and
- the raising of alcoholic strength to a minimum of 40% alcohol by volume cannot, of itself, assure the benefits claimed in the application;

- the products which the application seeks to establish as the minimum standard are able to be imported and sold now without any amendment to the Food Standards Code;
- the application would cause the removal from the Australian market of Scotch whisky products at alcoholic strengths below 40% alcohol by volume which currently enjoy a predominant market position and for which there is considerable consumer preference;
- the application would compel consumers to pay more for the same brands at a higher alcoholic strength without any evidence that consumers are currently deceived about any implied quality or that consumers necessarily desire these changes;
- the application would require manufacturers to change the composition of established brand products without any compelling health and safety or consumer information reasons for doing so; and
- the application could be seen to be in conflict with other government and industry initiatives aimed at the Australian community which encourage the adoption of a more responsible approach to the use of alcohol, including the the reduction of alcohol intake through the consumption of products with lower alcohol content.

ARTIFICIAL SWEETENING SUBSTANCES

The National Food Authority has completed an inquiry into the application from the Ice Cream Manufacturers' Federation of Australia and has recommended that the National Foods Standards Council adopt the draft variations to the following standards:

- Standard A8 - Artificial Sweetening Substances, and;
- Standard L1 - Ice Cream and Ice Confection and Related Products.

The recommendations, if approved by the Council, will allow the use of aspartame as an artificial sweetener to replace the sweetness usually supplied by sucrose in reduced fat and low fat ice creams. A minimum energy reduction of 25% can be achieved by the use of artificial sweeteners in place of sucrose in these products.

Further information about the recommendation, and the reasons for it, can be obtained by writing to the address below. Correspondence should quote Application No. 81.

ARTIFICIAL SWEETENING SUBSTANCES

The National Food Authority has completed an inquiry into the application by QUF Industries and has recommended that the National Food Standards Council adopt draft variations to the following food standards:

- Standard A8 - Artificial Sweetening Substances; and
- Standard H8 - Yoghurt and Yoghurt Products.

The recommendations, if approved by the Council, will allow the use of aspartame and acesulphame potassium as artificial sweeteners to replace the sweetness usually supplied by sucrose in all categories of flavoured yoghurt. A minimum energy reduction of 25% can be achieved by the use of these artificial sweeteners in place of sucrose.

The National Food Authority has completed an inquiry into applications from Johnson and Johnson Pty Ltd and has recommended that the National Food Standards Council adopt draft variations to Standard A8 - Artificial Sweetening Substances - and other appropriate standards.

The recommendation, if approved by the Council, will allow the use of sucralose, as an alternative artificial sweetener to those already permitted in the Food Standards Code, to replace the sweetness usually supplied by sucrose to enable the manufacture of carbohydrate modified, low joule and reduced joule foods.

LABELLING OF THAWED FISH - ABANDONMENT OF PROPOSAL

The National Food Authority has before it a proposal to amend the Food Standards Code to vary Standard D1 - Fish - to require labelling of thawed fish.

The proposal would have introduced a requirement into the Code that fish which have been frozen and are offered for sale in a thawed state must be labelled as "thawed".

Pursuant to section 23 of the Act the Authority has made a full assessment and has decided to abandon this proposal for the following reasons :

- * The proposal raises issues that are covered adequately by existing legislation. Clause 2 of Standard D1 defines fresh fish or chilled fish as "fish the temperature of which has not been reduced below -1°C". This clause, together with the general provisions in Standard A1 against false labelling, would already prohibit thawed fish from being labelled as fresh or chilled.
- * There are no easy tests to differentiate thawed frozen fish from chilled fish. This would make enforcement impracticable.

BROADCASTING ACT 1942

SHARE TRANSACTION COMMERCIAL TELEVISION SERVICE TNQ REGIONAL QUEENSLAND

PUBLIC SUBMISSIONS INVITED

The Australian Broadcasting Tribunal has commenced an inquiry into the following transaction:

The acquisition from National Nine Network Australia Limited by Susprium Pty Ltd of 4,695,003 shares (19.90%) in Telecasters North Queensland Ltd, licensee of commercial television service TNQ Regional Queensland.

All the shares in Susprium Pty Ltd are held by Link Enterprises (International) Pty Ltd and Kirman Pty Ltd. The directors are:

Laurence S Freedman
Brian M Sherman
James M Anthony
Adrian Peschar

Telecasters North Queensland Ltd also hold all the shares in the licensee company of commercial television service ITQ Mount Isa and the remote commercial television service QQQ North East Zone. The licences affected by the transaction are TNQ, ITQ and QQQ.

THE ISSUES TO BE CONSIDERED

The issues to be considered in the inquiry derive from section 90JA of the Broadcasting Act 1942 ('the Act') which in turn refers to the criteria for the transfer of a commercial licence which are set out in section 89A(8) of the Act. The issues are whether the Tribunal should or may refuse approval of the transaction having particular regard to:

- (a) whether the applicant has given an undertaking to comply with the conditions of the licence, to provide an adequate and comprehensive service pursuant to the licence, to encourage the provision of Australian programs and to use and encourage the use of Australian creative resources;
- (b) whether the giving of approval to the transactions by the Tribunal would be contrary to a provision of the Act;
- (c) whether it would be advisable in the public interest to refuse approval, because the Tribunal is not satisfied that:

- (i) the applicant is a fit and proper person to hold the licence;
 - (ii) the applicant has the financial, technical and management capabilities necessary to provide an adequate and comprehensive service;
 - (iii) the applicant is otherwise capable of complying with the conditions of the licence;
- (d) whether it would be advisable in the public interest to refuse approval because of the need to avoid undue concentration of influence;
- (e) whether, if approval is given:
- (i) a contravention, amounting to an offence against s92 (limitations of interests in commercial television) or s92JB (limitations of cross-media interests) would likely occur;
 - (ii) a person would be contravening s92C (limitations of directorships) or s92JD (limitations of cross-media directorships);
 - (iii) a condition specified in s92CA (foreign directors) or s92D (foreign shareholdings) would be contravened.

SUBMISSIONS AND THE INQUIRY FILE

If you would like to make a submission on these or other relevant matters, please forward your submission to the Tribunal by Thursday 17 September 1992.

To assist you, a background paper on the transactions is available. In addition, you may be assisted by the Tribunal's pamphlet A Guide to the ABT. This is available from the Tribunal and is attached to the inquiry file.

You may also want to look at the public inquiry file (File No IO/92/65), which contains information relevant to this inquiry. The inquiry file will be updated progressively and will contain all material, including submissions, on which the Tribunal will rely in reaching its decision. Governor-General

ANTARCTIC MEDAL

DETERMINATION

I, WILLIAM GEORGE HAYDEN, Governor-General of the Commonwealth of Australia, acting under regulations 3 and 6 of the Antarctic Medal Regulations, revoke the Antarctic Medal Determination made on the tenth day of February 1989 and determine as follows:

Medal design

1. The Antarctic Medal is a nickel-silver octagonal medal 38 millimetres in diameter ensigned with a hexagonal ice-crystal device in nickel-silver. The obverse bears a depiction of the Southern hemisphere showing Australia and the Antarctic enclosed by the inscription "FOR OUTSTANDING SERVICE IN THE ANTARCTIC". The reverse has an Antarctic expeditioner outside Mawson's hut leaning into a blizzard as he uses an axe.

Medal Ribbon

2. The Medal is suspended from a ribbon 32 millimetres wide, of snow-white moire with 3 millimetre edges of three shades of blue merging into the white.

Date Bar

3. A clasp in the form of a date bar inscribed with the year the service was rendered shall be attached to the ribbon.

Medal dress

4. The Medal is worn on the left breast whenever full size orders, decorations and medals are worn.

Further awards

5. Second and subsequent awards may be awarded to a recipient of the Antarctic Medal who renders further outstanding service to an Antarctic expedition, recognized by the presentation of a further date bar to be attached to the ribbon of the original award, and the wearing of a ribbon bar emblem in the form of the ice-crystal device used as a link between the Antarctic Medal and its suspension bar, 9 millimetres in diameter.

Medal Miniature

6. The miniature of the Antarctic Medal is a half-size replica of the Medal suspended from a miniature ribbon 16 millimetres wide. The miniature Medal is worn whenever miniatures of orders, decorations and medals are worn.

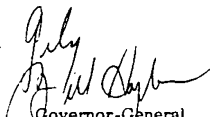

Lapel Badge

7. The lapel badge of the Antarctic Medal is a replica of the ice-crystal device used as a link between the Antarctic Medal and its suspension bar, 9 millimetres in diameter. The badge may be worn at any time with civilian dress.

Order of Precedence

8. The Antarctic Medal is worn in accordance with the Australian Order of Precedence of Honours and Awards as approved from time to time by The Sovereign.
