AUSTRALIAN ELECTORAL COMMISSIONRegister of Political Parties

The Australian Electoral Commission has received the following applications for registration as a political party under the provisions of Part XI of the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918 (the Act) and to alter an entry in the Register of Political Parties :

*Name of Party : Australia's Indigenous Peoples Party

Abbreviation of party name : A.I.P.P.

Name and address of proposed registered officer : Robert Raymond Lloyd Robinson
1 Kyte Street
CHARLEVILLE QLD 4470

The above application was made by 10 members of the party and states it wishes to receive election funding in reimbursement of its campaign expenditure.

*Name of Party : Janet Powell Independents' Network

Nature of change : Change the abbreviation of the name of the party from Independents' Network to *Powell Independents

The above application was made by the National Administrator of the party.

If you believe one of the parties should not be registered or should not be permitted to alter its entry in the Register of Political Parties :

- . because it is not an organisation with an object of promoting the election to the Federal Parliament of its endorsed candidate(s); or
- . because the application does not fulfil the technical requirements specified in the Act; or
- . because the party's name (or abbreviation) is likely to be confused with that of another registered party, you can formally object by writing to the Australian Electoral Commission by 4 December 1992. Submissions, which must be signed and contain your address, should be sent to the Registrar of Political Parties, PO Box E201, Queen Victoria Terrace, ACT 2600.

The National Food Authority has completed an inquiry into an application from Mr H.S. Urquhart-Holdcroft of Osborne Vales Wines and has recommended that the National Food Standards Council adopt the following food standard:

. Standard P2 - Fruit Wine, Vegetable Wine and Mead.

The recommendation, if approved by the Council, will mean this standard replaces the current Standard P2 - Cider and Perry. It will also standardise fruit wines, vegetable wines and mead. Such products were previously standardised for composition by Standard S1 - Miscellaneous Foods and for labelling by Standard P5 - Alcoholic Beverages Not Elsewhere Standardised. DUAL MINIMUM COMPOSITIONAL STANDARD FOR MILK SOLIDS NON-FAT AND MILK PROTEIN

Notice pursuant to section 25 of the National Food Authority Act 1991

The National Food Authority has before it a proposal to amend the Food Standards Code to vary Standard H1 - Milk and Liquid Milk Products - to delete the minimum milk solids non-fat requirement from the compositional standard for liquid milk and liquid milk products. The alternative requirement of a minimum milk protein content was to have been retained.

Pursuant to section 23 of the Act, the Authority has made a full assessment and has decided to abandon this proposal for the following reasons :

- . the USA and New Zealand require a minimum milk solids non-fat content but have no requirement for a minimum protein content of milk;
- . deleting the requirement for a minimum milk solids non-fat content would make Australian food standards inconsistent with New Zealand food regulations and could impede international trade in products such as dried skim milk and powdered skim milk;
- . the Australian dairy industries have no objections to retaining both the milk solids non-fat and the milk protein requirements as alternative criteria; and
- . the deletion of the minimum milk solids non-fat requirement serves little purpose other than making it more convenient for those who administer food law to determine whether milk complies with the Code.

DATE MARKING OF BREAD, MILK, CREAM AND MEAT

Notice pursuant to section 14 of the National Food Authority Act 1991

The National Food Authority has before it an application, received on 6 October 1992, from the Bread Research Institute of Australia Incorporated to amend the Food Standards Code (Standard A2 - Date Marking of Packed Food) to make the date marking of bread nationally uniform.

Currently each State and Territory is permitted to prescribe modes of date marking of bread, milk, cream and meat to meet their particular requirements. The applicant considers that there is a lack of justification for individual variation in date marking regulations between the States and Territories, or for special treatment of bread in comparison with other short life foods.

The Authority has made a preliminary assessment, has accepted the application and will make a full assessment of the application.

To assist in this process, the Authority invites written submissions on matters relevant to the application and to the prescribed modes of date marking of milk, cream and meat.

Any submission received will be placed on the public register of the Authority unless a claim of commercial confidentiality (either in respect of all or part of the submission) is made and justified.

All submissions, quoting Application number 162, should be forwarded to the address below and be received by 16 December 1992.

ANTI-DUMPING AUTHORITYNOTICE OF INQUIRY INTO
TRIETHANOLAMINE FROM THE FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY AND MEXICO

The Australian Customs Service (ACS) has made a preliminary finding that there are sufficient grounds for the publication of dumping duty notices sought in respect of triethanolamine from the Federal Republic of Germany and Mexico.

The ACS, acting under paragraph 269TD(2)(b) of the Customs Act 1901, has now referred to the Authority the question of whether the publication of dumping duty notices is so justified. The commencement date for the inquiry is 5 November 1992. The Authority will report to the Minister on whether anti-dumping action should be taken no later than 26 February 1993.

Interested parties are invited to make submissions to the Authority as soon as possible, but certainly no later than 14 December 1992. Preferably, submissions should address specific matters raised in the ACS preliminary finding report. Copies of that report can be obtained from the Office Manager, Dumping Control, ACS, Canberra, by telephoning (06) 275 6060.

Following receipt of submissions, it is possible that a meeting of parties will be arranged to explore issues raised. Should such a meeting take place, a further opportunity will be afforded interested parties to make submissions to the Authority on those issues.

The Authority has adopted the "public file" system used by the ACS and explained in Australian Customs Notices 87/169 and 89/162. Briefly this means that a submission containing confidential material should be accompanied by another version, omitting the confidential material but containing a non-confidential summary, which can be made available to other parties to the inquiry. Three copies of the confidential version and one copy of the non-confidential version are required.

The Authority's address for submissions is GPO Box 9839, Canberra, ACT, 2601.

For further information regarding this inquiry, please telephone Peter Evans on (06) 276 1641.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENTMOTOR VEHICLE STANDARDS ACT 1989
ROAD VEHICLE (NATIONAL STANDARDS) DETERMINATION NO 3 OF 1992*Determination under Section 7 of the Act of National Standards for Road Vehicles*INTRODUCTION

Section 7 of the Motor Vehicle Standards Act 1989 (the Act) empowers the Minister to determine national standards for road vehicles and vehicle components. Determinations are disallowable instruments subject to section 46A of the Acts Interpretation Act.

Parts B, C and D of the third edition of the Australian Design Rules for Motor Vehicles and Trailers are the main national standards under the Act. These standards are kept under review by the Federal Office of Road Safety.

In carrying out reviews the Office consults with other agencies and interests. These include State/Territory road safety authorities, the industry and representative organisations of road users. In particular, consultation is carried out through the Vehicle Standards Advisory Committee on which all these interests are represented.

TOPICS ADDRESSED

The determination addresses new national standards dealing with omnibuses. Associated amendments are made to existing standards.

In total, one new Australian Design Rule and five amended rules are involved. The new rule (No 68/00) requires the provision of three-point (i.e. lap/sash) seatbelts in all passenger seating positions of certain buses. The changes to existing rules are consequential amendments stemming from the introduction of this new Rule.

Because several Design Rules are involved, a list of the new and amended standards is appended to this statement. The list summarises the changes made to each Design Rule and to an associated definition.

The new and revised standards will reduce the number of deaths and the severity of injuries resulting from bus crashes. Despite the relative safety of bus travel, a number of incidents, some of them very tragic indeed, have led to a community wish to see the level of safety further increased. Federal Office of Road Safety research shows strong public support for seatbelts being available in omnibuses to give passengers the form of protection to which they are accustomed. Analysis has shown that the new rule can be expected, on average, to prevent between 5 and 10 fatalities per year and to prevent a further 50 to 100 people sustaining injuries requiring hospitalisation.

From the technical point of view, the new Design Rule fits well with the increased protection available through the bus rollover design rule (ADR 59/00). Seatbelts will enhance the benefits of the stronger buses required to meet ADR 59/00.

CONSULTATIONS AND RESPONSES

There has been a wide and thorough process of consultation. Those consulted included bus seat manufacturers, vehicle manufacturers, bus operators, regulatory authorities and the travelling public.

Road safety experts, the medical profession and the travelling public have been very supportive of the introduction of this rule. Bus manufacturers and operators have proposed that the implementation schedule should be deferred.

Consultation has also been held with the Ministerial Council and strong support has been given by State and Territory Ministers responsible for transport matters.

TIMING OF INTRODUCTION OF CHANGES

The determination as a whole came into force on the date of its gazettal.

To give industry time to make design and associated changes where this is required, the national standards introduced or amended by the determination, which will apply only to new vehicles, will commence on 1 July 1994 for heavy omnibuses (i.e. more than 5 tonnes gross vehicle mass) and on 1 July 1995 for medium omnibuses (i.e. 5 tonnes or less). These dates provide the lead-times required for design and production arrangements.

THE PROVISIONS

Clause 1 sets out the determination's short title and provides for its citation.

Clause 2 specifies the date of entry into force.

Clause 3 sets out the meanings of key terms used in the determination and the explanatory notes. It also describes the status of clause headings and explanatory notes.

Clause 4 provides for the recently introduced Design Rule listed in the clause to be a national standard.

Clause 5 identifies the Design Rules which have been amended. The national standards represented by these Rules and by associated definitions, as so amended, continue to be national standards for the purposes of the Act.

Clause 6 is a standard provision confirming that vehicles which met the national standards applicable when they were manufactured do not become nonstandard by virtue of these changes to the standards.

THE NOTES

The notes annexed to the Determination:

- (a) identify terms used in the determination or appended notes which have meanings specified in the Act;
- (b) explain a term used in the appended notes which is not otherwise defined;
- (c) list the determinations under the section which established the national standards, including details of their gazettals;
- (d) list the subsequent determinations adding to, or amending, the national standards;

- (e) provide information on the availability of the determinations;
- (f) explain the structure of the Australian Design Rule volume and the standing of each of its parts; and
- (g) explain how, and from where, copies can be obtained of current and previous national standards, and of the Australian Design Rule volume as a whole.

SUPPLEMENTARY NOTE

PROGRESSIVE FORMAT CHANGES TO NATIONAL STANDARDS

This determination continues the process of improvement to the layout and presentation of the ADRs constituting national standards. The changes will be effected as new rules are made and existing rules amended.

The changes extend, to individual ADRs, the broad division between text intended to be legally binding, and text not intended to have such effect. This distinction was implemented with respect to the ADR volume as a whole in Determination No 1 of 1991. The change will progressively see text which does not impose obligations at law on manufacturers brought together in a cover sheet, or the like, attached to the front of each ADR (national standard).

Concurrent improvement and simplification of the numbering system is being undertaken, particularly as it applies to new rules.

SUMMARY OF AMENDMENTS AND ADDITIONS BEING MADE UNDER SECTION 7
OF THE MOTOR VEHICLE STANDARDS ACT TO THE NATIONAL STANDARDS
AS REPRESENTED BY PARTICULAR AUSTRALIAN DESIGN RULES - October, 1992

PART B - DEFINITIONS AND RELATED MATERIAL

An amendment to the definitions recognises "seatbelt" as an alternative to "seat belt" in accordance with increasing usage.

PART C - ADRs APPLICABLE TO NEW VEHICLES

ADR 4/01 Seatbelts

Amended to provide that vehicles complying with new ADR 68/00 do not need to comply with certain clauses of this rule, viz those dealing with the provision of seatbelts on seats other than driver's seats.

ADR 5/02 Anchorages for Seatbelts and Child Restraints

Amended to provide that vehicles complying with new ADR 68/00 do not need to comply with certain clauses of this rule, viz those dealing with the provision of seatbelt anchorages on seats other than driver's seats.

ADR 34/00 Child Restraint Anchorages and Child Restraint Anchor Fittings

Extends the application of the rule to medium and heavy omnibuses, particularly with respect to arrangements for testing the safety of child restraint anchorages and fittings.

ADR 34/01 Child Restraint Anchorages and Child Restraint Anchor Fittings

As with the /00 version of the rule, extends the rule's application to medium and heavy omnibuses, particularly with respect to testing of the safety of child restraint anchorages and fittings.

ADR 66/00 Seat Strength, Seat Anchorage Strength and Padding in Omnibuses

Provides for the rule to no longer apply to omnibuses covered by the new ADR 68/00 as from the date that rule commences to apply to them.

ADR 68/00 Occupant Protection in Omnibuses

This new ADR specifies, for certain omnibuses, requirements for seatbelts, seat strength, and anchorages for seats, seatbelts and child restraints, together with provisions for protecting occupants from impact with the back of seats and with accessories on seats and armrests.

The rule applies to omnibuses over three and a half tonnes, with 17 or more seats and with seat backs one metre or more in height. It does not apply to route service buses.

ANTI-DUMPING AUTHORITY

FINAL FINDING ON POLYVINYL CHLORIDE HOMOPOLYMER RESIN (PVC)
FROM CANADA, THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA, FRANCE, JAPAN, NORWAY, ROMANIA, SAUDI ARABIA AND THAILAND.

The Anti-Dumping Authority has completed its inquiry following a complaint that PVC resin had been exported to Australia at dumped prices and that the dumping had caused and was threatening, material injury to the Australian industry producing PVC resin.

In its report, the Authority concluded that:

- there has been dumping of PVC resin from Canada, the People's Republic of China, France, Japan, Norway, Saudi Arabia and Thailand;
- imports of PVC resin from these countries have caused and threaten to cause, material injury to the local industry producing PVC resin; and
- PVC resin has not been exported to Australia from Romania.

In light of these conclusions, the Authority recommended to the Minister for Small Business, Construction and Customs that dumping duties be imposed on exports of PVC resin from Canada, the People's Republic of China, France, Japan, Norway, Saudi Arabia and Thailand.

The Minister has accepted the Authority's recommendation.

Copies of the non-confidential version of the Authority's report No. 82 will be available soon. Requests for copies should be addressed to Margaret McLeod at the Authority by telephoning (06) 276 1742.
