ANTI-DUMPING AUTHORITY

NOTICE OF INQUIRY INTO DIOCTYL PHTHALATE FROM JAPAN AND TAIWAN PROVINCE

The Australian Customs Service (ACS) has made a preliminary finding that there are sufficient grounds for the publication of dumping duty notices sought in respect of dioctyl phthalate exported to Australia from Japan and Taiwan Province.

The ACS, acting under paragraph 269TD(2)(b) of the Customs Act 1901, has now referred the matter to the Anti-Dumping Authority for a final finding. The Authority must consider whether the publication of dumping duty notices is justified. The commencement date for the inquiry is 17 December 1992 and the Authority will report to the Minister by 5 April 1993.

Interested parties are invited to make submissions to the Authority as soon as possible, but certainly no later than 27 January 1993. Preferably, submissions should address specific matters raised in the ACS preliminary finding report. Copies of that report can be obtained from the Office Manager, Dumping Control, ACS, Canberra, by telephoning (06) 275 6060.

In its report, the ACS identified the practice of "country hopping" which occurs where importers begin to source their supplies of a product under inquiry from a country or countries not named in the original application by the Australian industry. In a letter to the ACS and to the Authority on 24 August 1992, the Minister for Small Business, Construction and Customs suggested that accelerated consideration be given to applications where country hopping is clearly evident.

As a consequence of the Minister's letter, it is possible that the Authority will complete its inquiry earlier than the statutory deadline. Interested parties are asked to keep this possibility in mind by providing timely submissions to the Authority.

Following receipt of submissions, it is possible that a meeting of parties will be arranged to explore issues raised. After that meeting, a further opportunity will be afforded parties to make submissions to the Authority on those issues.

The Authority has adopted the "public file" system used by the ACS and explained in Australian Customs Notices 87/169 and 89/162. Briefly, this means that a submission containing confidential material should be accompanied by another version omitting the confidential material but containing a non-confidential summary which can be made available to other parties to the inquiry. Three copies of each version are required. The Authority's address for submissions is GPO Box 9839, Canberra ACT 2601.

For further information regarding this inquiry, please telephone Jeremy Salvage on (06) 276 1812.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

(Issued by the authority of the Minister for Land Transport)

MOTOR VEHICLE STANDARDS ACT 1989

ROAD VEHICLE (NATIONAL STANDARDS) DETERMINATION NO 4 OF 1992

Determination under Section 7 of the Act of National Standards for Road Vehicles

INTRODUCTION

Section 7 of the Motor Vehicle Standards Act 1989 (the Act) empowers the Minister to determine national standards for road vehicles and vehicle components. Determinations are disallowable instruments subject to section 46A of the Acts Interpretation Act.

Parts B, C and D of the third edition of the Australian Design Rules for Motor Vehicles and Trailers are the main national standards under the Act. These standards are kept under review by the Federal Office of Road Safety.

In carrying out reviews the Office consults with other agencies and interests. These include State/Territory road safety authorities, the industry and representative organisations of road users. In particular, consultation is carried out through advisory committees on which all these interests are represented, and through the National Road Transport Commission.

TOPICS ADDRESSED

The determination addresses new national standards dealing with occupant protection in motor cars. Associated amendments are made to existing standards.

A new Australian Design Rule dealing with frontal impact protection, and changes to existing standards in the form of one new rule and two amended rules, are involved.

The new rule (ADR 69/00 - Full Frontal Impact Occupant Protection) changes the way design efficacy in relation to driver and passenger protection is established. The rule sets an overall performance standard to be met by demonstrating, through instrumented dummies, the aggregated efficacy of the design elements.

The new rule therefore specifies injury parameters to be measured in barrier crash tests in lieu of the traditional approach of mandating particular components. It is based on the U.S.A. requirements embodied in Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (F.M.V.S.S.) number 208.

The consequential changes to existing rules 18/00 and 18/01, published as additional rule 18/02, provide for seatbelt warning lamps to be included among the visual indicators with which a car must be equipped.

The changes to existing rules 10/01 and 21/00 relax certain requirements when airbags are fitted.

Because several ADRs are involved, an annotated list of the new and amended standards is appended to this statement.

The new and revised standards are expected to reduce the number of deaths and the severity of injuries resulting from road vehicle crashes. From the technical point of view, the new and amended standards keep Australia at the forefront of passenger car occupant protection requirements, measures in which Australia has been a world leader over the decades. The standards also harmonise with standards in force, or coming into force, in other significant automobile manufacturing countries such as U.S.A., Canada and Japan.

CONSULTATIONS AND RESPONSES

There has been a wide and thorough process of consultation. Those consulted included vehicle manufacturers, regulatory authorities and representatives of the travelling public.

Road safety experts and the medical profession are very supportive of the early introduction of the rule.

The Federal Chamber of Automotive Industries publicly supported the new rule. Industry representations regarding the implementation dates and the types of dummies to be used have been accommodated, and the date for compulsory use of Hybrid III dummies for testing, as set in clause 5.2, will be reviewed in the light of international developments.

The new ADR 69/00 and the associated changes to existing standards were considered by the Ministerial Council meeting in Brisbane on 30 October 1992. Strong support was given by all State and Territory Ministers.

TIMING OF INTRODUCTION OF CHANGES

The determination as a whole comes into force on the date of its gazettal.

To give industry time to make any design and associated production changes required, national standards introduced or amended by the determination will, in their application to new vehicle models, commence on 1 July 1995. For models already available to the market at that date, the new requirements will apply from 1 January 1996.

These dates provide the lead-times required for new design and production arrangements.

THE PROVISIONS

Clause 1 sets out the determination's short title and provides for its citation.

Clause 2 specifies the date of entry into force.

Clause 3 sets out the meanings of key terms used in the determination and the explanatory notes. It also describes the status of clause headings and explanatory notes.

Clause 4 provides for the recently introduced Design Rules listed in the clause to be national standards.

Clause 5 identifies the Design Rules amended. The national standards represented by these Rules, as so amended, continue to be national standards for the purposes of the Act.

Clause 6 is a standard provision confirming that vehicles which met the national standards applicable when they were manufactured do not become nonstandard by virtue of these changes to the standards.

THE NOTES

The notes annexed to the determination:

- (a) identify terms used in the determination or appended notes which have meanings specified in the Act;
- (b) explain terms used in the appended notes which are not otherwise defined;
- (c) list the determinations which initially established the national standards, including details of their gazettals;
- (d) list the subsequent determinations adding to, or amending, the national standards;
- (e) provide information on the availability of the determinations;
- (f) explain the structure of the Australian Design Rule volume and the standing of each of its parts;
- (g) explain where copies of current and previous national standards, and of the Australian Design Rule volume as a whole, can be inspected; and
- (h) explain how, and from where, copies can be purchased of current and previous national standards, and of the Australian Design Rule volume as a whole.

SUPPLEMENTARY NOTE

CONSOLIDATION OF FORMAT CHANGES TO NATIONAL STANDARDS

The format of the national standards dealt with in this determination is consistent with the new format for ADRs approved by the Minister in connection with Determination No 3 of 1992 tabled in the Senate and in the House of Representatives on 4 November 1992.

This development in the presentation of the national standards was reported in the supplementary note annexed to the Explanatory Statement tabled for that Determination.

The revised format means that for the purpose of circulation to subscribers and others, the new and amended ADRs dealt with in a determination have a cover sheet attached outlining such matters as the dates of approval and gazettal, as well as the convention being followed with respect to identification of defined terms.

As previously indicated, cover sheets attached to particular ADRs for user convenience do not have status as part of the national standards.

APPENDIX

DETERMINATION NO. 4 OF 1992 - SUMMARY OF AMENDMENTS AND ADDITIONS MADE UNDER SECTION 7 OF THE MOTOR VEHICLE STANDARDS
ACT TO THE NATIONAL STANDARDS FOR ROAD VEHICLES

The additions and amendments to the national standards made by the determination are as follows:

PART C - ADRs APPLICABLE TO NEW VEHICLES

ADR 10/01 Steering Column

Amended to provide that vehicles complying with new ADR 69/00 and fitted with a driver airbag do not need to comply with the clause of this rule dealing with the testing of steering wheels.

ADR 18/02 Instrumentation

This new ADR provides for seatbelt warning lamps to be included among the visual indicators with which a car must be equipped.

ADR 21/00 Instrument Panel

Amended to provide that vehicles complying with new ADR 69/00 and fitted with a passenger airbag need to comply with a reduced test impact speed as specified in the clauses of this rule dealing with the testing of instrument panels.

ADR 69/00 Full Frontal Impact Occupant Protection

This new ADR specifies requirements for motor car crashworthiness in terms of maximum allowable injury criteria determined by measurements on anthropomorphic dummies during full frontal test crashes.

This comprehensive focus on the total vehicle restraint system is substituted for the previous approach in which there was a separate focus on individual components such as seatbelts, seats, and anchorages for seats and seatbelts.

PRELIMINARY FINDING INTO THE ALLEGED DUMPING OF
SELF-PROPELLED MULTI-TYRED ROLLERS FROM THE CZECH AND SLOVAK FEDERAL REPUBLIC

The Australian Customs Service has completed its inquiry into the alleged dumping of self-propelled multi-tyred rollers from the Czech and Slovak Federal Republic. The inquiry commenced on 28 August 1992 following an application by Tutts (a Division of Bowater Tutt Industries Pty Ltd).

Customs found that self-propelled multi-tyred rollers from the Czech and Slovak Federal Republic had not been exported at dumped prices following removal of anti-dumping measures in May 1992. Customs concluded that material injury to the Australian industry had not been caused and was not threatened by dumped exports from the Czech and Slovak Federal Republic.

NOTICE UNDER SUBSECTION 269TD(3) OF THE CUSTOMS ACT 1901

I have considered the application, taking into account submissions received and any other matters considered relevant, and hereby declare that there are not sufficient grounds for the publication of a dumping duty notice in respect of self-propelled multi-tyred rollers exported from the Czech and Slovak Federal Republic.
