The ABA is required to renew these licences unless it decides that an applicant is no longer a suitable licensee.

A company is a suitable licensee if the ABA does not decide that sub-section 41(2) (for commercial) or 83(2) (for community) of the Act applies to the company.

The ABA may decide that either section 41(2) or 83(2) of the Act applies to a licensee if it is satisfied that allowing the licensee to provide or continue to provide either a commercial or a community broadcasting service under a licence would lead to a significant risk of:

- (a) an offence against the Act or the regulations being committed; or
- (b) a breach of the conditions of the licence occurring.

In deciding whether these sub-sections apply, the ABA is required by sections 41(3) (commercial) and 83(3) (community) of the Act, to take into account:

- (a) the business record of the company; and
- (b) the company's record in situations requiring trust and candour; and
- (c) (commercial) the business record of each person who is, or would be, if a licence were allocated to the applicant, in a position to control the licence; or (community) the business record of the chief executive and each director and secretary of the applicant; and
- (d) the record in situations requiring trust and candour of each such person; and
- (e) whether the company, or a person referred to in paragraph (c) or (d), has been convicted of an offence against this Act or the regulations.

Nothing in the provisions of the Act requires the ABA to hold an investigation or a hearing into whether a licence should be renewed.

Section 38(1)

NATIONAL CODE OF PRACTICE FOR HEALTH CARE WORKERS AND OTHER PEOPLE AT RISK OF THE TRANSMISSION OF HUMAN IMMUNODEFICIENCY VIRUS AND HEPATITIS B IN THE WORKPLACE [NOHSC:2010(1993)]

Pursuant to sub-section 38(1) of the National Occupational Health and Safety Commission Act 1985 (Cwlth), the National Occupational Health and Safety Commission hereby gives notice that it has declared a National Code of Practice for Health Care Workers and Other People at Risk of the Transmission of Human Immunodeficiency Virus and Hepatitis B in the Workplace [NOHSC:2010(1993)].

TITLE

This national code of practice may be cited as the National Code of Practice for Health Care Workers and Other People at Risk of the Transmission of Human Immunodeficiency Virus and Hepatitis B in the Workplace [NOHSC:2010(1993)].

OBJECTIVE

The purpose of this national code of practice is to assist employers and employees to meet requirements under existing Commonwealth or State and Territory occupational health and safety legislation as it relates to HIV and hepatitis B in the workplace by providing practical guidance on the identification, assessment and control of occupational health and safety risks associated with blood or body fluids.

In most workplaces, employees are not at risk of transmission of HIV and hepatitis B. However, in workplaces in which employees have contact with blood or body fluids there is a potential for transmission of HIV and hepatitis B. This national code applies to those at highest risk - health care workers, police, prison officers and emergency response workers (firefighters and ambulance officers). This national code of practice will assist employers of these groups to identify when the risk of transmission exists in the workplace, and, if a risk is identified, to assess and control that risk.

This national code of practice should:

- (a) address concerns in the workplace regarding HIV, AIDS and hepatitis B by providing guidelines for program development;
- (b) assist with the formulation and implementation of workplace procedures and practices in accordance with developed programs;
- (c) minimise the risk of transmission of HIV and hepatitis B in the workplace; and
- (d) contribute to a better understanding of the workplace issues associated with HIV and hepatitis B through the provision of guidelines, resources, information and training by employers.

HOW COPIES MAY BE OBTAINED

Copies of the national code of practice may be purchased from Commonwealth Government Bookshops in all capital cities as well as Albury and Townsville.

EXPORT MEAT ORDERS AMENDMENT

EXPORT CONTROL ORDERS

No. 2 of 1994

Section 25 of the Export Control Act 1982 (the Act), provides that the Governor-General may make regulations. Section 25 of the Act provides that the regulations may empower the Minister to make orders. Regulation 3 of the Export Control (Orders) Regulations provides that the Minister may make Orders accordingly. The Export Meat Orders were made pursuant to those provisions.

Order 139A of the Export Meat Orders currently prohibits the slaughter at a registered establishment of an animal that has been treated with a hormonal growth promotant (HGP) where importing country authorities prohibit the entry of such products. The market of particular concern is the European Union (EU) but there are several other countries which have also imposed bans on the use of HGP's.

Following a review of Australia's HGP control procedures by EU officials it became apparent that, if Australia was to maintain market access for meat and meat products, the procedures needed to be revised. The system of HGP control was revised by a Commonwealth/State/industry working group which recommended that changes be introduced. These changes are being implemented and the amendment now being made reflects the new agreed procedures.

Suborder 139A.1 is inserted to provide definitions applicable to order 139.

Suborder 139A.2 (existing suborder 139A.1) is amended to recognise the specification of a foreign country in accordance with order 452 of the Export Meat Orders which refers to the Australian Export Meat Manual Volume 2, Requirements for Overseas Countries.

Suborder 139A.3 is inserted to provide for the three forms of declaration that are necessary to implement the new system. These are required to accommodate differing State/Territory practices.

Suborder 139A.4 (existing suborder 139A.2) is unchanged in intent.

Suborders 139A.5 and 139A.6 are inserted to specify conditions under which animals must be deemed to have been treated with a HGP.

Suborder 139A.7 is inserted to make it an offence to issue a HGP free declaration if the animal has been treated with a HGP.

Suborder 139A.8 is inserted to cover the situation where the identity of animals is lost before their HGP status is determined. In this case the decision in relation to the animal must be the most restrictive decision applicable to all animals submitted for slaughter in the mob.

Suborder 139A.9 is inserted to cover the decision made in relation to a mob of animals which has retained its identity. The decision in relation to the whole mob must be the most restrictive decision in respect of any animal in the mob.

The Acts Interpretation Act 1901 and the Statutory Rules Publication Act 1903 apply to these Orders in the manner described in section 25 of the Export Control Act 1982.
