The ABA is required to renew these licences unless it decides that an applicant is no longer a suitable licensee.

A company is a suitable licensee if the ABA does not decide that sub-section 41(2) (for commercial) or 83(2) (for community) of the Act applies to the company.

The ABA may decide that either section 41(2) or 83(2) of the Act applies to a licensee if it is satisfied that allowing the licensee to provide or continue to provide either a commercial or a community broadcasting service under a licence would lead to a significant risk of:

- (a) an offence against the Act or the regulations being committed; or
- (b) a breach of the conditions of the licence occurring.

In deciding whether these sub-sections apply, the ABA is required by sections 41(3)(commercial) and 83(3)(community) of the Act, to take into account:

- (a) the business record of the company; and
- (b) the company's record in situations requiring trust and candour; and
- (c) (commercial) the business record of each person who is, or would be, if a licence were allocated to the applicant, in a position to control the licence; or (community) the business record of the chief executive and each director and secretary of the applicant; and
- (d) the record in situations requiring trust and candour of each such person; and
- (e) whether the company, or a person referred to in paragraph (c) or (d), has been convicted of an offence against this Act or the regulations.

Nothing in the provisions of the Act requires the ABA to hold an investigation or a hearing into whether a licence should be renewed.

COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA

HEALTH INSURANCE ACT 1973

Statement Under Section 106AA

On the twenty eighth day of December 1993, the then Minister determined under section 106 of the Health Insurance Act 1973, that Dr Ignatius Joseph CANNIZZO of Oakdale Medical Centre, 1295 Centre Road, Clayton in Victoria, had provided excessive services and that he be counselled by a medical adviser of the Health Insurance Commission and repay $3,108.40 to the Commonwealth of Australia for services found to be not reasonably necessary for the adequate medical care of the patients concerned.

Reasons for Determination

The determination was made on the basis of recommendations, made under section 105 of the Health Insurance Act 1973, by the Medical Services Committee of Inquiry for the State of Victoria, after its inquiry into the practices of Dr Cannizzo. A Committee consists of five medical practitioners, four of whom are appointed after consultation with the Australian Medical Association.

The Committee found that Dr Cannizzo's provision of excessive services occurred in three areas of his practice. These areas were: the provision of large numbers of long and prolonged consultations where the patient's clinical condition and reason for attending did not warrant that length of consultation, the provision of enormous quantities of intramuscular-iron injections to some patients who were only slightly iron deficient and the length of some consultations for the purpose of counselling resulting in minimal benefit to patient.

Dr Cannizzo was advised of the determination, its possible consequences and given opportunity, as required by the legislation, to seek a review. Dr Cannizzo chose not to seek a review of the determination and consequently as the statutory appeal period has passed the determination is now effective.

Comments

The Government is seriously concerned by the practices of medical practitioners like Dr Cannizzo who are providing services which are not reasonably necessary for the adequate medical care of the patients concerned. Excessive services are a drain on public funds and every effort is being made to reduce the magnitude of the problem.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR CONSENT TO AN ALTERATION OF ELIGIBILITY RULES

(D No. 30019 of 1994)

NOTICE is given that an application has been made under the Industrial Relations Act 1988 for consent to an alteration of the eligibility rules of The Victorian Authorised Newsagents' Association Limited.

The alteration is sought from the following:

4. The industry in or in connection with which the Association is formed is the retail sale and distribution of newspapers, periodicals and similar publications, stationery, toys, novelties and other articles commonly sold in newsagents' shops.
5. The following persons shall be deemed to be Members of the Association:
  - (a) Authorised Newsagents who were registered as members of the Association on 15th December, 1976, and any Authorised Newsagent who is an employer and who shall have made application in writing for membership and who shall have been duly elected a member by the Committee. Every applicant for membership of the Association shall be proposed by one and seconded by another member. Membership application shall be made in writing, signed by the applicant, his proposer and seconder, and shall be in the form prescribed by the Committee from time to time.
  - (b) Life members who shall have been members of the Association and who by reason of valuable services rendered have been elected as such by a General Meeting of Members.

to the following:

1. "Authorised Newsagent" means a newsagent who has been accredited under the Rules of the Newsagency Council of Victoria.
4. The industry in or in connection with which the Association is formed is the retail sale and distribution of newspapers, periodicals and similar publications, stationery, toys, novelties and other articles commonly sold in newsagents' shops.

5. The following persons shall be deemed to be Members of the Association:

- (a) Authorised Newsagents who were registered as members of the Association on 15th December, 1976, and any Authorised Newsagent who is an employer and who shall have made application in writing for membership and who shall have been duly elected a member by the Committee. Every applicant for membership of the Association shall be proposed by one and seconded by another member. Membership application shall be made in writing, signed by the applicant, his proposer and seconder, and shall be in the form prescribed by the Committee from time to time.
- (b) Life members who shall have been members of the Association and who by reason of valuable services rendered have been elected as such by a General Meeting of Members.

Information contained in the application and supporting documents concerning the reasons for the proposal and the effect of the proposal is as follows:

the reasons for the proposal:

The members of the Association have agreed and adopted this alteration by way of special resolution at the Annual General Meeting of the Association in the interests of the Articles of the Association truly reflecting the operation of the Association.

The Association seeks to clarify the definition, not to conflict with, nor add to that which is contained in its Certificate of Registration.

the effect of the proposal:

The Association respectfully submits that the insertion of the definition "Authorised Newsagent" does not alter the eligibility rules of the Association. Rather the insertion of a definition specifies a term which is contained in the eligibility rule but which previously was not defined in the rules of the organisation being its Articles of Association.

The Association considers it beneficial for the term "Authorised Newsagent" to be defined in its rules of Association and accordingly its members agreed to that change. It was intended that the insertion of the definition would merely specify in the Articles of Association a meaning for the term "Authorised Newsagent" as it was understood by the organisation and its members.

The Association then respectfully requests that the Industrial Relations Commission sees that the practical result of this alteration is that it is of no real effect in terms of membership eligibility, but rather, is a convenient definition included to augment the Certificate definition.

Any interested organisation, registered under the Industrial Relations act, association or person who desires to object to the application may do so by lodging in the Industrial Registry a written statement within thirty-five (35)

days after the publication of this advertisement and by serving on the organisation [whose address for service is: Dunhill Madden Butler Solicitors GPO Box 4592, Melbourne, Vic. 3001] within seven (7) days after the notice of objection has been lodged, copies of the notice of objection and written statement so lodged.

ANTI-DUMPING AUTHORITY

NOTICE OF INQUIRY INTO CANNED TOMATOES FROM ITALY

The Anti-Dumping Authority has been asked to hold an inquiry into whether the Minister should revoke the dumping and countervailing duty notices applying to imports of canned tomatoes from Italy.

The request was made by Roger D. Simpson & Associates Pty. Ltd. on behalf of La Doria de Diodata Ferraioli S.p.A., under the provisions of subsection 7(3) of the Anti-Dumping Authority Act 1988.

The commencement date for the inquiry is 21 May 1994 and the Authority will report to the Minister no later than 19 September 1994.

You are invited to make a submission to the Authority as soon as possible, but certainly no later than 11 July 1994. Submissions should address specific matters raised in the request for revocation of the notices. Copies of the request can be obtained by telephoning Mr Chris Cook on 06 276 1987.

Following receipt of submissions, it is possible that a meeting of parties will be arranged to explore issues raised. After that meeting, parties can make further submissions to the Authority.

The Authority uses a 'public file' system as explained in Australian Customs Notices 87/169 and 89/162. Briefly, this means that a submission containing confidential material should be accompanied by another version, omitting the confidential material but containing a non-confidential summary, which can be made available to other parties to the inquiry. Three copies of each version are required.

The Authority's address for submissions is GPO Box 9839, Canberra ACT 2601.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various methods which have been proposed for the determination of the rate of reaction between a radical and a molecule. The most common of these is the method of initial rates, in which the initial rate of reaction is measured for a series of different concentrations of the reactants. This method is simple and straightforward, but it is subject to a number of errors, particularly those arising from the measurement of the initial rate. A more accurate method is the method of integrated rate laws, in which the integrated rate law for the reaction is used to determine the rate constant. This method is more complicated, but it is more accurate and it is not subject to the same errors as the method of initial rates.
 The third method is the method of half-lives, in which the half-life of the reaction is measured for a series of different concentrations of the reactants. This method is also simple and straightforward, but it is subject to the same errors as the method of initial rates. The fourth method is the method of steady-state concentrations, in which the steady-state concentration of the radical is measured for a series of different concentrations of the reactants. This method is more complicated, but it is more accurate and it is not subject to the same errors as the method of initial rates. The fifth method is the method of product analysis, in which the concentration of the product is measured for a series of different concentrations of the reactants. This method is also simple and straightforward, but it is subject to the same errors as the method of initial rates.
 The sixth method is the method of kinetic isotope effects, in which the rate of reaction is measured for a series of different isotopes of the reactants. This method is more complicated, but it is more accurate and it is not subject to the same errors as the method of initial rates. The seventh method is the method of laser flash photolysis,
 in which the rate of reaction is measured for a series of different concentrations of the reactants. This method is also simple and straightforward, but it is subject to the same errors as the method of initial rates. The eighth method is the method of electron spin resonance, in which the rate of reaction is measured for a series of different concentrations of the reactants. This method is more complicated, but it is more accurate and it is not subject to the same errors as the method of initial rates. The ninth method is the method of mass spectrometry, in which the rate of reaction is measured for a series of different concentrations of the reactants. This method is also simple and straightforward, but it is subject to the same errors as the method of initial rates. The tenth method is the method of nuclear magnetic resonance, in which the rate of reaction is measured for a series of different concentrations of the reactants. This method is more complicated, but it is more accurate and it is not subject to the same errors as the method of initial rates.
