2. the land appears to me to be suitable for use for that public purpose
3. the particulars of the use for which the land will be developed is the construction, operation and maintenance of a pipeline for the conveyance of ethane and other hydrocarbons.

BROADCASTING SERVICES ACT

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR RENEWAL OF LICENCE

In accordance with sections 46(2)(commercial licences) and 90(2)(community licences) of the Broadcasting Services Act 1992 (the Act), the Australian Broadcasting Authority (ABA) hereby notifies that the companies listed below have lodged applications for the renewal of the following broadcasting licences:

Commercial Licensees

Southern Tasmania FM Stereo Pty Ltd
Coast Rock FM Pty Ltd
Regional Broadcasters Australia Pty Ltd

Call Sign

7TTT
2CFM
4HI

Community Licensee

5AU Broadcasters Pty Ltd

5AU

The ABA is required to renew these licences unless it decides that an applicant is no longer a suitable licensee.

A company is a suitable licensee if the ABA does not decide that sub-section 41(2) (for commercial) or 83(2) (for community) of the Act applies to the company.

The ABA may decide that either section 41(2) or 83(2) of the Act applies to a licensee if it is satisfied that allowing the licensee to provide or continue to provide either a commercial or a community broadcasting service under a licence would lead to a significant risk of:

- (a) an offence against the Act or the regulations being committed; or
- (b) a breach of the conditions of the licence occurring.

In deciding whether these sub-sections apply, the ABA is required by sections 41(3)(commercial) and 83(3)(community) of the Act, to take into account:

- (a) the business record of the company; and
- (b) the company's record in situations requiring trust and candour; and
- (c) (commercial) the business record of each person who is, or would be, if a licence were allocated to the applicant, in a position to control the licence; or (community) the business record of the chief executive and each director and secretary of the applicant; and
- (d) the record in situations requiring trust and candour of each such person; and
- (e) whether the company, or a person referred to in paragraph (c) or (d), has been convicted of an offence against this Act or the regulations.

Nothing in the provisions of the Act requires the ABA to hold an investigation or a hearing into whether a licence should be renewed.

I, JOHN PHILIP FAULKNER, Minister for the Environment, Sport and Territories, having considered comments as required by subsection 9B(3) of the Wildlife Protection (Regulation of Exports and Imports) Act 1982 (the Act) and having taken into account advice from the Designated Authority on those matters specified in subsection 10A(5) of the Act, hereby declare Nothofagus cunninghamii to be 'controlled specimens' for the purposes of subsection 10A(2) of the Act, subject to the following conditions:

1. This declaration is limited to specimens harvested by TASFLORA (Mr Boguslaw Samborski) of Burnie, Tasmania, from private land held within North Forests Burnie freehold estate as at 1 January 1995.
2. Harvesting operations for Nothofagus cunninghamii are to be carried out in accordance with the document entitled "Proposal for Harvest and Export of Native Wildlife under the Wildlife Protection (Regulation of Exports and Imports) Act 1982 - Nothofagus cunninghamii by TASFLORA dated 6 May 1994". A copy of the proposal is available from the Australian Nature Conservation Agency.
3. Monitoring of the harvest, and any spread of disease caused by the harvest, is to be conducted by TASFLORA, as determined by the Australian Nature Conservation Agency, and a report submitted to the Australian Nature Conservation Agency on a 6 monthly basis.
4. Recording of harvest figures is to be undertaken and figures are to be submitted annually to the Designated Authority.
5. This declaration is valid until 28 February 1996.

ENVIRONMENT PROTECTION (IMPACT OF PROPOSALS) ACT 1974

EXEMPTION UNDER PARAGRAPH 11.4 OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES APPROVED UNDER SECTION 6

I, JOHN PHILIP FAULKNER, Minister for the Environment, Sport and Territories, exempt from all of the requirements of the Administrative Procedures the following class of proposed actions:

- (a) all aspects of decisions (not being decisions in relation to a project in respect of which licences have not previously been issued) to be made under regulation 9 of the Customs (Prohibited Exports) Regulations within the period 27 January 1995 to 27 February 1995 (inclusive); and
- (b) the projects in respect of which any such decisions are made (not being projects in respect of which licences have not previously been issued).

DATED 27 January 1995

Minister for the Environment, Sport and Territories

Summary of Reasons: The recent decision of the Federal Court in Tasmanian Conservation Trust v Minister for Resources & Anor. provided judicial consideration of a number of aspects of the operation of the Environment Protection (Impact of Proposals) Act 1974. In light of the Court's findings, decisions to approve commodity exports under Regulations 9 and 11 of the Customs (Prohibited Exports) Regulations may be decisions requiring the designation of a proponent and referral to the Department of the Environment, Sport and Territories under the Act.

A number of these decisions are required in the immediate future. Designation and assessment of these proposals would not be possible without the risk of substantial delays to the granting of export approvals. Many of these approvals are required to satisfy overseas contracts and their indefinite delay could affect Australia's standing as a supplier of these commodities. Continuing approvals are also necessary to maintain the ongoing operation of major Australian industries. It is therefore contrary to the interests of Australia and to the public interest in general for these decisions to be prevented until any assessments have been undertaken. The exemptions for decisions under Regulations 9 and 11 recognise these exceptional circumstances.

Health Insurance Act 1973

Professional Services Review Scheme—
Directions as to Sampling (No. 2)

I, CARMEN MARY LAWRENCE, Minister for Human Services and Health, acting under section 106K of the Health Insurance Act 1973, issue the following Directions, being directions that are in accordance with advice received from the Australian Bureau of Statistics, for the purposes of sections 106H and 106J of that Act.

Dated 31 JANUARY 1995

Minister for Human Services and Health

PART 1—PRELIMINARY

1.1 This Direction may be cited as Professional Services Review Scheme—Directions as to Sampling (No. 2).

1.2 This Direction sets out procedures in regard to samples of services for the purposes of Subdivision C (Findings based on statistical sampling) of Division 4 of Part VAA of the Health Insurance Act 1973 (the Act).

1.3 Terms used in this Direction that are defined in Part VAA of the Act have the same meanings in this Direction as in that Part.

1.4 Part 2 of this Direction sets out the procedure for producing and using a sample for the purposes of subsection 106H (1) of the Act. Part 3 sets out the procedure for increasing the size of a sample if the practitioner under review so requests under subsection 106J (2) of the Act.

Professional Services Review Scheme—Directions as to Sampling 2

1.5 A sample produced for any purpose referred to in these Directions must be randomly selected in accordance with proper statistical sampling practice unless the contrary is specifically stated.

PART 2—SAMPLING

2.1 If a referral to the Director relates to services of a class specified in the referral (“the specified class”) that may be the subject of findings under Division 4 of Part VAA of the Act, the Commission may supply a sample (“preliminary random sample”) drawn from the services included in the referral. The preliminary random sample must contain twice the number of services worked out by reading from Table 1 the number at the intersection of:

- (a) the row containing in its leftmost column (the column headed “class size”) the number of services of the specified class included in the referral; and
- (b) the column headed “50%”.

2.2 If the Committee proposes to make a finding based on statistical sampling, the Committee must examine a sample of 30 services (“exploratory sample”) from the preliminary random sample and determine whether each of those services constitutes inappropriate practice or not. The Committee must then calculate the percentage of services in the exploratory sample that constitute inappropriate practice and round down the result to the next lower multiple of 5%.

2.3 If the percentage worked out in the way set out in clause 2.2 (“rounded percentage”) is less than 20%, no further statistical inferences are to be made concerning the referral.

2.4 If the rounded percentage is 20% or greater, the Committee must examine further cases from the preliminary random sample until it has examined the number of cases found in Table 1 at the intersection of:

- (a) the row containing in its leftmost column (the column headed “class size”) the number of services of the specified class included in the referral; and
- (b) the column headed by the rounded percentage.

This sample (“final random sample”) may include the services that were included in the exploratory sample.

2.5 The Committee must determine whether each service included in the final random sample constitutes inappropriate practice, and work out the percentage of services in that sample that constitutes inappropriate practice.

Professional Services Review Scheme—Directions as to Sampling 3

2.6 The percentage worked out in the way described in clause 2.5 must then be reduced by ten percentage points. The resulting percentage must be taken to be the percentage of services of the same kind as the services included in the referral that constitute inappropriate practice.

[NOTE: Call the percentage worked out as set out in clause 2.5 “x”. To a confidence level of 95%, the percentage of services in the sample that constitutes inappropriate practice is within the interval $(x \pm 10)\%$. For the purposes of the Committee’s findings, the lower limit of that interval is to be taken.]

PART 3—INCREASING THE SAMPLE SIZE

3.1 If a Committee proposes to make findings based on the final random sample of services, and the person under review requests that the sample size be increased, the Committee must select from the preliminary random sample a further sample containing the same number of cases as the number of cases that was included in the final random sample used in the Committee’s first consideration of the referral. The latter sample is to be combined with the final random sample to make up the “doubled final random sample”.

3.2 The Committee must determine whether each service included in the doubled final random sample constitutes inappropriate practice, and work out the percentage of services in that sample that constitutes inappropriate practice.

3.3 The percentage worked out in the way described in clause 3.2 must then be reduced by half the number of percentage points found in Table 2 at the intersection of:

- (a) the row containing in its leftmost column (the column headed “class size”) the number of services of the specified class included in the referral; and
- (b) the column headed by the percentage calculated in clause 3.2 rounded down to the next lower multiple of 5%.

The resulting percentage must be taken to be the percentage of the services included in the referral that constitute inappropriate practice.

[NOTES:

1. Call the percentage worked out as set out in clause 3.2 “x”, and the percentage found from Table 2 “y”. To a confidence level of 95%, the percentage of services in the sample that constitutes inappropriate practice is within the interval $x \pm \frac{y}{2}$. For the purposes of the Committee’s findings, the lower limit of that interval is to be taken.

Professional Services Review Scheme—Directions as to Sampling

2. An example of the use of the process follows. This example is intended to be an illustration only.

Assume the Commission includes in its referral 500 surgical excisions under the same item number. It will also include 168 of those excisions randomly selected—84 being the size of the random sample necessary to predict with 95% confidence that a result derived from the sample will be within $\pm 10\%$ of the actual position in the population, at a hypothesised incidence of inappropriate practice of 50% (the incidence requiring the largest sample).

The Committee will consider the first 30 such services (the exploratory sample) and make a finding as to what number, if any, of those services were inappropriate.

If the Committee decides that less than 20% (6 excisions) were inappropriate, no conclusion can be drawn as the result will not be statistically valid.

If the Committee decides that 6 or more of the services were inappropriate, say 8 or 26.7%, the 26.7% is rounded down to the nearest 5%, that is 25%. From Table 1, a sample size of 66 is determined.

The Committee then considers a further 36 excisions from the random sample (the number needed to make up the final random sample) and if it finds that 18 or 27% of the 66 services it has now considered were inappropriate, it can find that 17% (27% minus the possible 10% error) or 85 of the excisions were inappropriate.

At this point the practitioner has effectively three options:

- accept a finding that 17% of the excisions were inappropriate; or
- require the Committee to consider a further 66 randomly selected excisions, thus doubling the sample size and reducing the confidence interval, so that if a similar pattern were found across the whole 132 excisions the confidence interval would drop to 13% giving an accuracy of $\pm 6.5\%$ —the new confidence interval derived from Table 2. The finding then would be that 20.5% or 102.5 of the excisions were inappropriate practice. There is also the possibility that the larger sample might demonstrate that the correction should have been the other way and result in a higher percentage of inappropriate excisions, theoretically as high as 30.5% (37% minus 6.5%); or
- take the Committee through all 500 excisions. The effect is that, if the sample is accurate, 27% or 135 inappropriate excisions would be the expected result.]

PART 4—REVOCATION

4.1 The Directions entitled “Professional Services Review Scheme—Directions as to Sampling”¹, issued under section 106K of the Health Insurance Act 1973 on 9 May 1994, are revoked.

[NOTE:

1. The Directions were notified in the Commonwealth of Australia Gazette on 25 May 1994.]

COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA

Health Insurance Act 1973

Statement Under Section 106AA

On the twenty-sixth day of April 1994, I determined in accordance with section 106 of the Health Insurance Act 1973, that Dr Ashraf Thabit SELIM, a legally qualified, vocationally registered medical practitioner of 190 The Boulevard, Punchbowl, a suburb of Sydney, rendered excessive services and that he should be reprimanded, counselled and repay $9,265.80 to the Commonwealth of Australia. An equivalent amount is also to be repaid as a penalty for the provision of excessive services (total $18,531.60).

Following requests for reviews under both the Health Insurance Act 1973 and the Administrative Decisions (Judicial Review) Act 1977, Dr Selim has accepted my determination and withdrawn his actions.

REASON FOR DETERMINATION

The determination was made following a report and recommendations by a Medical Services Committees of Inquiry after its review of 735 specific services rendered by Dr Selim to 10 patients over a twelve month period. Medicare benefits totalling $16,424.25 was paid for those services. The Committee found that all 10 patients were rendered excessive services; that 560 of the services were excessive in whole or in part; and that $9,265.80 in Medicare benefits was to be repaid to the Commonwealth.

The Committee was also asked to review the clinical relevance of another 109 services rendered by Dr Selim on the one day to 107 patients. The services included home visits and surgery consultations claimed as "level B" services and a number of procedures. Medicare benefits for 67 of those services were, in the Committee's opinion, inappropriately claimed. The Health Insurance Commission will pursue those matters with Dr Selim.

COMMENTS

Though Dr Selim is a Vocationally Registered General Practitioner the Committee found "many entries in Dr Selim's clinical notes.. were ..scant in detail"; that "notwithstanding the practitioner's explanation of those entries, it remained unclear to the Committee which of the multiplicity of conditions previously treated was the subject of the consultation in question."; and that "many of the 109 services rendered on the one day comprised symptomatic treatment for minor ailments or that Dr Selim's 'input was routine.'" Nevertheless Dr Selim almost exclusively claimed "level B" consultations no matter what service was provided. For example, Dr Selim claimed B level consultations for writing repeat prescriptions despite seeing the patient often.

The Medicare item descriptor for benefits to be paid for a level B service expects a medical practitioner to include the taking of a selective history, examining the patient and implementing a management plan for at least one of the conditions. According to benefits claimed, Dr Selim almost never provided a straightforward consultation with limited examination and management no matter the condition of the patient, how often the patient is seen or how limited Dr Selim's time.

The Committees of Inquiry are appointed with the assistance of the Australian Medical Association, and provide independent assessments of medical practitioners' use of the Medicare scheme. I thank the Committee, and professional generally, for the service they provide to the Commonwealth in the difficult matter of reviewing the services provided by fellow practitioners.

Minister for Human Services and Health

SOUTHERN BLUEFIN TUNA FISHERY

PERSONS TO WHOM STATUTORY FISHING RIGHTS
ARE TO BE GRANTED

I, RICHARD ANDREW STEVENS, delegate of the Australian Fisheries Management Authority ("AFMA"), make the following notification under subsection 23 (2) of the Fisheries Management Act 1991.

Dated 3 February 1995

Managing Director of the Australian Fisheries
Management Authority

Interpretation

1. In this notice:

"Plan" means the Southern Bluefin Tuna Fishery Management Plan 1995;

"fishery" means the SBT Fishery, defined in the Plan;

"SBT" means fish of the species Thunnus maccoyii (Castelnau) or Thunnus thynnus; and

"SFR" means a statutory fishing right, defined in the Plan and granted under the Fisheries Management Act 1991, for the fishery.

Intention to grant SFRs

2. AFMA intends to grant to each person whose name appears in Column 1 of the Schedule to this notice, the number of SFRs that appear in Column 2 of the Schedule, opposite that person's name.

Summary of SFRs to be granted

- 3.1 A SFR is, subject to the Plan, a right, in each season while the SFR continues, to:

- (a) one of a number of equal portions of a national catch allocation of SBT determined by AFMA for that season under the Plan; or
- (b) if an interim live weight value of SBT is in effect under the Plan, that live weight value.

- 3.2 A SFR continues until:

- (a) the Plan ceases to have effect; or
- (b) the SFR ceases to have effect, by being cancelled by AFMA or surrendered.

- 3.3 A SFR entitles a person to use a boat to conduct particular fishing activities (specified in the Plan) in relation to SBT, subject to the requirements and conditions set out in the Plan.
- 3.4 If SFRs are granted to a person, the Plan provides that 1000 SFRs will be granted to the person for each unit of fishing capacity held (other than by way of lease), immediately before the end of 2 February 1995, by the person as a unit holder under the Southern Bluefin Tuna Fishery Management Plan as amended and in force at that time.
