This Gazette is published by the Office of Legislative Drafting and Publishing (OLDP) on behalf of the Commonwealth of Australia.

OLDP has experience over more than half a century as the specialist professional drafter of Commonwealth subordinate legislation.

OLDP strives to maintain and enhance its reputation as a centre of drafting excellence. We produce legislative and administrative instruments of the highest standard through the innovative use of plain English, current technology and rigorous quality assurance procedures.

OLDP has a working relationship with the Commonwealth's drafter of primary legislation, the Office of Parliamentary Counsel. OLDP is a member of the Parliamentary Counsel's Committee of Australia and participates in relevant international forums.

OLDP's responsibilities

- drafting
- advising about drafting; preparing and formally notifying instruments; interpreting instruments created under a statutory power

- providing ready public access to the law through ComLaw (www.comlaw.gov.au) and the Legislative Instruments Database (frl.i.law.gov.au)
- ensuring that Commonwealth legislation and explanatory material is available in easily accessible form, as it is made, and in consolidated form, as it is amended

Value-added services

We arrange the gazettal and tabling in Parliament of instruments in the Statutory Rules series, and can arrange gazettal and tabling of other instruments.

We consolidate into a principal legislative instrument any amendments made to an instrument, making copies available in hard and electronic format. On request, we can do the same for other instruments.

We publish legislative instruments drafted by OLDP (including amendments and consolidations) on the Internet on ComLaw and on the Legislative Instruments Database. On request, we can arrange the publication of other instruments in those media, assisting you to meet the Government's policy of providing ready public access to the law.

HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH PROGRAM – ROUND TWO

Call for Expressions of Interest

The National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) is calling for expressions of interest under the Health Services Research Program.

The program will support multi-disciplinary research into how financing arrangements, organisational structures and processes, health technologies and social factors affect the quality, cost and availability of, and access to, health care. The Health Services Research Program aims to provide important new evidence to inform policy and practice and thereby significantly improve the quality of health care in Australia. The Program will fund research which:

- addresses significant gaps in evidence required for Australia's most important policy and practice issues;
- covers issues related to the Australian Government's National Research Priorities or National Health Priority Areas; and
- has the potential to develop new productive partnerships between researchers, policy makers, health service providers and citizens.

The NHMRC strongly encourages expressions of interest from collaborative teams to conduct cross-sectoral research. The NHMRC particularly encourages expressions of interest from teams including investigators who would not normally apply for NHMRC grants. Improving health services research capacity is also a subsidiary goal of the program and applicants are encouraged to propose innovative ways to improve the pool of health services expertise as well as producing high quality strategic research.

Total funding of $10 million, over five years, will be available for this round. Although it is expected that proposals will be larger in scope and of up to five years' duration, project proposals of smaller scope and duration are also welcome.

Further information on the Health Services Research Program is available on the NHMRC website at www.nhmrc.gov.au. Submitters are advised to read the supporting documentation before making any enquiries. Enquiries about the program objectives and scope should be directed to Ms Kim Boyer 0418 124 110.

Closing date: Friday, 22 July 2005. Late applications will not be considered.
