Capacity Building Grants in Population Health Research

Since 2001, the NHMRC has supported strategic awards that aim to build capacity and expertise within the population health research workforce. Three rounds of Capacity Building Grants in Population Health Research have been funded to date. The NHMRC has merged the final two funding rounds and revised the program objectives to encourage a broader field of applicants. In combined Rounds 4 and 5, up to $20 million is available over 5 years to fund small and large grant applications. An additional $2.5 million of priority funds are available for competitive applications in Indigenous health research capacity building.

Applicants are encouraged to propose broadly based collaborative research activity, including collaborations with other social research disciplines and policy practitioners. Applications are expected to be from groups of lead applicants seeking funding to support other individuals (team investigators) to work within their group. Applications should outline how the applicant intends to develop team investigators to become recognised research professionals in important areas of population health.

Further information and application forms are available from the NHMRC Internet site at www.nhmrc.gov.au/funding/granttype/pophealth.htm. The closing date is 16 March 2006. Late applications will not be accepted.

For further assistance contact Gillian.Treloar@nhmrc.gov.au or phone (02) 6289 9129.

COMMISSIONER OF TAXATION

The Commissioner of Taxation, Michael D'Ascenzo, gives notice of the following Rulings, copies of which can be obtained from Branches of the Australian Taxation Office or at <http://law.ato.gov.au>.

Taxation Determination

Ruling Number	Subject	Brief Description
TD 2006/1	Income tax: for the purposes of Division 974 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 , if the issuer of an interest bearing instrument can change the rate of interest that will become payable to any rate (including zero) that it chooses at its sole discretion, does the issuer have an 'effectively non-contingent obligation' to provide 'financial benefits' as interest payments from the time that a change in the interest rate could take effect?	This Determination concludes that the issuer does not have an 'effectively non-contingent obligation' to provide 'financial benefits' as interest payments from the time that a change in the interest rate could take effect, unless the issuer's ostensibly unfettered discretion to change the interest rate should be disregarded in the light of the full consideration of the pricing, terms and conditions of the scheme under which the instrument was issued. This Taxation Determination does not apply if the holder of the instrument can compel the issuer to return the amount invested in the instrument on any occasion that the issuer changes the interest rate. This Determination applies to years commencing both before and after its date of issue.

Diaries (1856–57) of explorer Thomas Baines

It is the intention of a team of South African and Australian researchers to produce a CD-ROM on explorer and artist Thomas Baines (1822–1875). Titled Thomas Baines in Australia, the CD-Rom will focus on maritime aspects of Baines's life and work and comprise essays, images and maps. The project, coordinated by Professor Lindy Stiebel, University of KwaZulu-Natal, Durban, hopes to reproduce transcriptions of Baines's diaries that are held in the Mitchell Library, State Library of New South Wales. The Library acquired Baines's journal in 1914 by purchase. The editor of the proposed new project would like to hear from descendants of Thomas Baines or parties with an interest in the diaries.
