After the word “thereto” in the second paragraph of 6(b) insert the words “including products and services associated with convenience retailing.”

Delete the third paragraph of 6(b).

Reason for Proposed Alteration

3. The reason for the proposed alteration is that the nature of the industry in respect of which the organisation is registered has significantly changed. Since the time of the Applicant’s registration under the Act in 1982 (at which time the Applicant acceded to the demands of various motor trade associations to restrict its role in the petroleum industry to that of wholesale marketing and distribution) the business operations of the Applicant’s members have changed significantly.
4. In recent years it became increasingly evident to the organisation that the role of the traditional fuel distributor had changed dramatically, with the realigning of petroleum and ancillary products, including convenience retailing, resulting in a composite mix of business operations.
5. The alteration to the organisation’s membership Rules, and the expansion of those Rules to cover retail activities associated with the sale of bulk petroleum and related products, occurred pursuant to an Application to the Commission made on 23 December 2004. That Application received the consent of the Commission on 26 April 2005 [PR957238].
6. Membership of the Applicant is currently open to any employer in the petroleum distribution and marketing industry, excluding some specified “major oil companies”. The proposed amendment to the eligibility Rules remove that limitation on oil company members. Such companies are suppliers to convenience store retailers, and are currently “supplier members” of the Australasian Association of Convenience Stores.

7. Although historically it was not the case, many of the Applicant's members are now involved in the retailing of petroleum products and with convenience retailing in addition to their traditional activities.
8. The move away from the traditional distributor operations of marketing, distribution and sale of petroleum in bulk and toward such other ancillary activities as retailing, has seen the organisation's members become more deeply involved in the convenience retailing area of the industry.
9. Convenience retailing is characterized by a 24/7 operation, and in the majority of cases is aligned to and co-located with petroleum retail operations.
10. In, or around, January 2006, the organisation established a sub-committee which was charged with reviewing the changing nature and role of the industry, in both wholesale and retail areas. The sub-committee's report was received in May 2006. That report is attached to the statutory declaration of Robert Perry, made in support of this Application.
11. In summary, the report identified benefits in an expanded organisation which would include members of the Australasian Association of Convenience Stores transferring from that organisation (which would then cease to exist).

The report:

- (a) identified an enormous amount of common ground and complementary member services, and could see benefits in the variety of services being offered and felt there was scope for future growth for both the organisation's existing members, and for convenience retailers;
 - (b) determined that it is now timely to look to strengthening the organisation's position by having a cohesive lobbying voice and appropriate value added resources. The role of an expanded organisation would not be restricted to industry lobbying of governments and regulatory authorities and liaising with other major industry players, but would also include supporting and representing the interests of members in the workplace relations environment and the issues that impact on their workplaces; and
 - (c) identified that the pooling of resources would broaden the scope of services that can be offered to members and that can only be of benefit moving into the future.
12. The Applicant believes that the proposed changes are appropriate as they would enable the organisation to properly represent its members in the context of their current businesses.

Effect of Proposed Alteration

13. The effect of the proposed alteration is to extend the Applicant's eligibility Rules to cover convenience retail activities that are now a common adjunct to the transportation, storage and sale in bulk of petroleum and related products by members; and to remove the present limitation on the membership of oil companies.
14. Upon the consent of the Commission to the proposed alteration as set out in the present Application, the Applicant intends to enter into an arrangement with the Australasian Association of Convenience Stores (AACS), an unincorporated association which is not a registered organisation under the Workplace Relations Act 1996, whereby the Applicant will accept applications for membership from members of AACS (and ultimately AACS will cease to exist). This arrangement is intended to create an organisation which better reflects the changing industry in which the members of the Applicant and the AACS operate.

Any interested organisation registered under the Workplace Relations Act 1996, association or person who desires to object to the application may do so by lodging in the Industrial Registry, marked to the attention of Mr Andrew Schultz, a notice of objection within thirty-five (35) days after the publication of this advertisement and by serving on the organisation, whose address for service is:

Reason for the Proposal:

This Application seeks to change the name of the organisation to reflect the changed constituency of the members of the organisation, which is the subject of a separate application to alter the Eligibility Rules of the organisation (Related Application: D 2006/72).

Upon the consent of the Commission to the proposed alteration as set out in the present Application and the Related Application, the Applicant intends to enter into an arrangement with the Australasian Association of Convenience Stores (AACS), an unincorporated association which is not a registered organisation under the Workplace Relations Act 1996, whereby the Applicant will accept applications for membership from current members of AACS (and ultimately AACS will cease to exist). This arrangement is intended to create an organisation which better reflects the changing industry in which the members of the Applicant and the AACS operate.

The Applicant seeks, through the Related Application, to expand its membership to convenience store retailers. The present Application is made in order to reflect the intended change to the membership base of the Applicant.

3 Arrangements relating to the Superannuation Act 1976 (Interest) Determination

- (1) The Superannuation Act 1976 (Interest) Determination, being the Determination relating to interest in force under subsection 154A (4) of the Superannuation Act 1976, is taken to have applied in a period:

- (a) starting on the date mentioned in column 2 of an item of the table; and
- (b) ending at the end of the date mentioned in column 3 of the item;

as if subclauses 6 (1) and (2) of the Determination had specified the daily compounding interest rate mentioned in column 4 of the item.

Note The effect of this provision is to increase the interest rates that have been inserted and then omitted in the Determination by a series of amending instruments.

- (2) The amendment of the Superannuation Act 1976 (Interest) Determination made by the Superannuation Act 1976 (Interest) Determination No. 116 (the amending Determination) is taken to have had effect, at the commencement of 19 May 2004, as if the reference in clause 4 of the amending Determination to a daily compounding interest rate of 0.018441% were a reference to a daily compounding interest rate of 0.019558%.

Note Determination No. 116 amended the Superannuation Act 1976 (Interest) Determination by omitting an interest rate that is affected by item 2 of the table. This provision ensures that the effect of Determination No. 116 is not compromised.

- (3) The amendment of the Superannuation Act 1976 (Interest) Determination made by the Superannuation Act 1976 (Interest) Determination No. 128 (the amending Determination) is taken to have had effect, at the commencement of 22 July 2004, as if the reference in clause 4 of the amending Determination to a daily compounding interest rate of 0.019853% were a reference to a daily compounding interest rate of 0.021166%.

Note Determination No. 128 amended the Superannuation Act 1976 (Interest) Determination by omitting an interest rate that is affected by item 4 of the table. This provision ensures that the effect of Determination No. 128 is not compromised.

The content of TR 95/30 has been reviewed and issued as TR 2006/13 due to the rewrite of the depreciation provisions contained in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 and following judgments handed down in two Full Federal Court cases in 2001. Accordingly, TR 95/30 is no longer current.

Note 2 Under subsection 9(6) of the Act, an ADI is guilty of an offence if it does or fails to do an act and doing or failing to do that act results in a contravention of a condition of the ADI's Authority, and there is no order in force under section 11 of the Act determining that subsection 9(6) does not apply to the ADI. The maximum penalty is 200 penalty units or, by virtue of subsection 4B(3) of the Crimes Act 1914, in the case of a body corporate, a penalty not exceeding 1,000 penalty units. By virtue of subsection 9(6A) of the Act, an offence against subsection 9(6) is an indictable offence. That definition is to be applied for the purposes of this clause as if subparagraph (1)(l) of that definition were omitted.

- 2) Condition 1 does not prevent Anthony Wallace and Richard Wallace from being directors of the ADI merely because they are associates of shareholders Margaret Wright and John White, provided the combined shareholdings of Margaret Wright and John White in the ADI remain the same or less than their combined shareholdings as at the time of the making of these conditions (0.8% of the total paid up shares in the ADI).
- 3) Conditions (1) and (2) apply despite any inconsistency with paragraph 24 of Prudential Standard APS 510 made under section 11AF of the Act.
