ACMA is required to renew these licences unless it decides that an applicant is no longer a suitable licensee. A company is a suitable licensee if ACMA does not decide that sub-section 83(2) of the Act applies to the company.

ACMA may decide that sub-section 83(2) of the Act applies to a licensee if it is satisfied that allowing the licensee to provide or continue to provide either a commercial or a community broadcasting service under a licence would lead to a significant risk of: (a) an offence against the Act or the regulations being committed; (b) or a breach of the conditions of the licence occurring.

In deciding whether these sub-sections apply, ACMA is required by sub-section 83(3) of the Act, to take into account: (a) the business record of the company; and (b) the company's record in situations requiring trust and candour; and (c) (commercial) the business record of each person who is, or would be, if a licence were allocated to the applicant, in a position to control the licence; or (community) the business record of the chief executive and each director and secretary of the applicant; and (d) the record in situations requiring trust and candour of each such person; and (e) whether the company, or a person referred to in paragraph (c) or (d), has been convicted of an offence against this Act or the regulations.

Under sub-section 91(2A) of the Act, ACMA may also refuse to renew a community broadcasting licence if, having regard to matters in paragraphs 84(2)(a) to (f), it considers that it would not allocate such a licence if it were deciding whether to allocate the licence to the licensee.

The Act does not require ACMA to hold an investigation or a hearing into whether a community licence should be renewed (sub-section 91(3)).

AUSTRALIAN COMMUNICATIONS AND MEDIA AUTHORITYNOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR RENEWAL OF LICENCE UNDER SECTION

Tweed Radio & Broadcasting Co Pty Ltd	4124	MURWILLUMBAH RA1	NSW
		REMOTE COMMERCIAL RADIO
W & L Phillips Pty Ltd	10147	SERVICE CENTRAL ZONE RA1	NT

ACMA is required to renew these licences unless it decides that an applicant is no longer a suitable licensee. A company is a suitable licensee if ACMA does not decide that sub-section 41(2) of the Act applies to the company.

ACMA may decide that 41(2) of the Act applies to a licensee if it is satisfied that allowing the licensee to provide or continue to provide a commercial broadcasting service under a licence would lead to a significant risk of: (a) an offence against the Act or the regulations being committed; (b) or a breach of the conditions of the licence occurring.

In deciding whether the sub-section applies, ACMA is required by sub-section 41(3) of the Act, to take into account: (a) the business record of the company; and (b) the company's record in situations requiring trust and candour; and (c) the business record of the chief executive and each director and secretary of the applicant; and (d) the record in situations requiring trust and candour of each such person; and (e) whether the company, or a person referred to in paragraph (c) or (d), has been convicted of an offence against this Act or the regulations.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED DATA MATCHING PROGRAM

On 30 June 2009 Centrelink will complete a matching process of customer records with debts against the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) Taxpayer Records System.

The matching process involves the disclosure by Centrelink of the debtors' name, date of birth and postcode to the ATO. The matching process will enable Centrelink to identify instances where a person with a debt is eligible for a payment from the ATO (e.g. a tax refund or available credit). Centrelink may then give a notice to the ATO requiring them to pay some, or all, of the amount to Centrelink in order to satisfy or partially satisfy a debt owed by the person to Centrelink. This debt recovery is known as “garnishee action” and falls under the debt recovery provisions of the Social Security Act 1991, A New Tax System Family Assistance (Administration) Act 1999 or the Student Assistance Act 1973.

Up to 200,000 Centrelink records will be matched against ATO taxpayer records.

INVITATION TO COMMENT

CONSULTATION RARMP FOR LICENCE APPLICATION DIR 094 FROM CSIRO

Limited and Controlled Release of Genetically Modified Wheat and Barley

Australia's gene technology regulatory system is designed to protect the health and safety of people and the environment by identifying risks posed by, or as a result of, gene technology and managing those risks.

The Gene Technology Regulator is currently assessing Licence Application DIR 094 from CSIRO for a limited and controlled release to undertake research with 17 wheat lines and 10 barley lines genetically modified (GM) for enhanced nutrient utilisation efficiency.

The purpose of the trial is to evaluate growth, yield and grain properties of the GM plants when grown under field conditions. Some seed would be collected and retained for analysis and possible future trials, subject to further approval(s). The trial is proposed to take place, under limited and controlled conditions, at one site in the ACT, on a maximum area of 1 ha from 2009-2012. None of the GM plant materials from the trial would be used in human food or animal feed.

A consultation Risk Assessment and Risk Management Plan (RARMP) has been prepared, which concludes that the proposed release would pose negligible risk to human health and safety or to the environment. A range of licence conditions are proposed, including measures to restrict the release to the size, location and duration requested by CSIRO.

The Regulator welcomes written submissions in order to finalise the RARMP, which will then form the basis of a decision on whether to issue the licence. The consultation RARMP and related documents can be obtained from the website <<http://www.ogtr.gov.au>> under 'What's New' or by contacting the Office. Please quote application DIR 094 in any correspondence.

Submissions should be received by close of business on 19 June 2009.

CriterionValues

- | | |
|--|--|
| (a) the place has outstanding heritage value to the nation because of the place's importance in the course, or pattern, of Australia's natural or cultural history. | The Queensland and Northern Territory Aerial Services Ltd (QANTAS) hangar is nationally significant as one of the earliest sites of civil aviation activity in Australia. The hangar is one of the oldest surviving buildings associated with QANTAS and is the only surviving QANTAS building at Longreach Airport. It is the place where Australia's airline, QANTAS, commenced operations and from humble beginnings in this galvanised iron hangar grew to be a successful international air carrier. The place is also important for its association with the commencement of the Aerial Medical Service (the 'Flying Doctor' service), founded by the Reverend John Flynn in 1928, following discussions with Hudson Fysh and Paul J McGinness. QANTAS supplied the first aircraft for the Aerial Medical Service and provided the Service with logistical support from its Longreach base. The Aerial Medical Service grew to become the Royal Flying Doctor Service of Australia (RFDSA), the major provider of medical services across rural Australia. The QANTAS hangar at Longreach Airport is significant in Australian cultural history for its association with the founding decade of QANTAS and its association with the commencement of the Aerial Medical Service. |
| (h) the place has outstanding heritage value to the nation because of the place's special association with the life or works of a person, or group of persons, of importance in Australia's natural or cultural history.. | The QANTAS hangar at Longreach Airport is nationally significant for its association with the work of Hudson Fysh, Paul J McGinness and Fergus McMaster, who were the central figures in the formation of QANTAS, and Arthur Baird, whose engineering skills were devoted to making the airline a success. The pivotal work of all four in the early days of establishing QANTAS as a viable airline took place at the QANTAS hangar, and the place is significant for its association with the life and work of these men. |
